U.S. Facing Test To Hold Position, Kennedy Asserts

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy said today he sincerely believes America's ability to maintain its position in the world will be severely tested in the next four years.

That was his reply to a news conference question as to whether he has been painting the U.S. picture blacker than it is "for shock purposes."

And Kennedy insisted his administration has not yet reached any firm conclusion as to the relative position of this country and Russia in missile strength.

There were published reports the last two days that Pentagon officials believe the so-called "missile gap" versus Russia did not exist—in short, that this country was as strong in missiles as the Soviets.

The New York Herald Tribune said today the stories to this effect were based on a background briefing held by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Kennedy said he had talked with McNamara and other defense officials, and that the secretary "stated that no study had been concluded in the Defense Department which would lead to any conclusion at this time as to whether there is a missile gap or not."

The President added that it is hoped a preliminary study could be completed by Feb. 20. He said he hopes this country is "completely secure" as to the missile situation, but the answer is not yet clear.

Republicans in Congress had chortled over the reports that there was no genuine missile gap.

Fund Aid Eyed For Wellsville Road Project

Council Turns Down Proposed Hiring Of Engineer For Work

Wellsville City Council turned down a proposal to hire a planning engineer for the relocation of Route 7 through the city at the conclusion of a 3½-hour session Tuesday night. Action was delayed for further study.

Earlier in the meeting, Councilman William Stroble, street and light chairman, remarked that a "Buckeye Ave. apparently is the route selected by the State Highway Department for the new road through Wellsville."

He said the city should have the highway and that it would help the economic situation as the construction work is needed. He also remarked that Route 7 has been declared a defense highway and that Wellsville is a "bottleneck."

Later, Stroble said that it came to the attention of the street and light committee a month ago that possible "aid money" is available. He said Columbiana County commissioners aided East Liverpool in its highway project and that he and Councilman Donald Miller, finance chairman, then checked with the commissioners.

He said the commissioners agreed to go along with the proposal. He said the city can borrow its share from the federal government and then pay it back when actual construction begins. The highway would cost about $4½ million, he said.

Representatives of the Green Engineering Co. of Sewickley were then introduced. They outlined how reports would have to be filed to borrow the money and the various procedures for preparing plans and the final contract letting by the state.

Wilber MacLean suggested from the audience that an alternate route be considered from Yellow Creek, across country to the intersection of Routes 7 and 30 beyond Cannons Mills. He said this would save much Wellsville property and the city would not lose the tax valuation. MacLean said he is not opposed to the highway through the city.

Rumors Kicked Around

Police Chief Is Criticized By Wellsville Councilmen

Police Chief John Hephner came under fire at a meeting of Wellsville City Council Tuesday night and, among other things, was charged with making derogatory remarks about one of his patrolmen.

Hephner was not present.

Councilman Donald Miller led off by remarking that about two years ago the city purchased a $500 camera for the police department and then charged that it is now in the cellar of Hephner's home.

He said the "police department has no use of it and it should be brought back to City Hall and used for city business." He also said the department owns a Polaroid camera which is carried in the cruiser but that two weeks ago there was no film in it.

"I believe the cameras were bought to take pictures at the scenes of wrecks," he said.

Mayor William J. Shoub said he did not know if the camera was at Hephner's home but said he would check. "If it is, it will be returned tomorrow morning," the mayor said.

Councilman Wilmer Ralston then remarked that a state law sets the closing time of taverns but he said he understands that the officers have to go around telling them to close. "They have had some trouble with a couple of them and I believe that with more support from the chief, the officers won't have to go around closing bars."

Ralston also said he had heard rumors that Chief Hephner had made a statement to the effect that Patrolman Joseph Heiney had joined the mob.

Snow Here Reaches 5 Inches; New Storm Rips Eastern Areas

Schools Shut With Traffic At Standstill

New York City And Capital Hit Anew; Warnings In South

By The Associated Press
A mountain of snow blanketed almost all the Eastern seaboard today and new storms closed hundreds of schools and brought traffic to a standstill.

Snowbound New York City looked forward to more snow or rain and freezing drizzle. Mayor Robert F. Wagner continued his ban on all nonessential private auto traffic after he made a helicopter tour of the snowbound city. The ban meant another day of crowding on public transportation facilities as hundreds of thousands of automobiles remained buried along streets and parkways in the city.

With an ice breaker showing the way, 10 river craft started up the ice-choked Hudson River today to deliver more than 100,000 barrels of gasoline and heating oil for New York communities where shortages were reported. The bulk of the fuel was bound for Newburgh for distribution.

In Washington, D.C., the capital's snow-a-week schedule was right on time with a fall unofficially reported at 3 to 5 inches. Heavy snow warnings were out for northern and western Virginia and snow and sleet was spreading from North Carolina into southern Pennsylvania.

While Pennsylvania was attempting to dig out from last weekend's crippling snowfall of up to 24 inches, more snow lashed at the state. The Western part of the state bore the brunt of the new storm which dumped up to 4 inches of fresh snow there.

The eastern Panhandle of West Virginia got 6 inches of snow early today.

One storm dumped nearly a foot of snow in northwest Arkansas, the season's heaviest fall, as it spread into sections of Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas and Oklahoma. But it tapered off during the night and only light snow fell this morning in parts of Kansas and northeast Oklahoma.

More than eight inches of snow fell in Roanoke, in southwest Virginia, in a second storm that hit southern and eastern areas with snow, sleet and freezing rain.

British Premier Plans Visit To Red China

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan is thinking of visiting Peking this fall to begin the process of bringing Red China into the family of nations, informed sources said today.

They said Macmillan's venture in personal diplomacy will depend on his first getting the private approval of President Kennedy. He will see Kennedy in Washington in April.

He thus by implication ruled out any policy of what has been called preventive or pre-emptive war. He said the realization that the United States will not strike first is one of the important considerations in estimating the balance of missile forces.

Pennsylvania Gasoline Tax Hiked 2 Cents

HARRISBURG — Pennsylvania's tax on gasoline will go up 2 cents a gallon on April 1. The state Senate Tuesday night passed, by a vote of 27 to 22, the Lawrence administration bill to raise $74,000,000 a year more for highway construction.

The measure goes now to the governor for his signature. It was passed with the help of two Republican votes and was the first measure in the governor's $180,000,000 new revenue package to clear the Legislature.

Twenty-five Democratic members of the Senate voted a solid "Aye" for the bill. The GOP help came from Senators Zender H. Confair, of Williamsport, and Harold E. Flack, of Wilkes-Barre.

Majority Leader Charles R. Weiner, Philadelphia Democrat, moved immediately to put across the other dozen bills in Gov. David L. Lawrence's tax program. Since the gasoline tax has been the hardest fought, the others also were expected to be accepted.

If Weiner succeeds it will be the first time since World War II that a gubernatorial tax program has been adopted without a major amendment.

Senate Group Will Conclude Weaver Quiz

Banking Committee Question Kennedy's New Housing Chief

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Banking Committee plans today to wind up its lengthy questioning of Robert C. Weaver, New York Negro nominated by President Kennedy as the government's housing chief.

The hearing was delayed Tuesday until Kennedy sent word to Capitol Hill that he had reviewed Weaver's loyalty file. Weaver later denied membership in several organizations alleged to have Communist links.

Hopes of Democratic leaders to get the nomination through the Senate this week appear to have evaporated.

Sen. Willis Robertson, D-Va., banking chairman and an opponent of the nomination, said he was sure this would not be possible.

The Virginian said he thought the public testimony might end this morning, but that he was not sure when the committee would vote. Supporters of Weaver are pressing for quick action, but Robertson said there might be a demand for printing of the testimony before the vote.

Weaver, 53, now is vice chairman of the New York City Housing and Re-development Board.

He was quizzed all afternoon about his loyalty, his views on whether federal housing programs should be used to enforce residential integration, and his experiences in previous housing posts.

But the net result apparently was to leave the committee lineup unchanged. A substantial majority of the members warmly endorsed Weaver, who if confirmed will assume the highest post ever held by a Negro in the executive branch of the federal government.

Robertson declined to begin the hearing until Kennedy had sent a personal letter regarding Weaver's loyalty. The committee chairman said he had received a number of allegations that the New Yorker had been affiliated with some subversive organizations.

$1.9 Million Fines Levied

Civil Suits Loom In Antitrust Case

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The government breakup of the giant conspiracy in the $2-billion-a-year heavy electrical equipment industry, halting illegal price fixing and bid rigging, may be followed by many civil suits.

Customers may seek to recover thousands of dollars, perhaps millions in alleged overpayments. Such action could be in the courts for years. The suing customer must prove he was damaged by price-fixing or bid-rigging. This is not easy, attorneys said.

Industry sources, meantime, said equipment prices remain virtually unchanged.

The intensive federal probe that began 18 months ago ended Tuesday as U. S. Dist. Judge J. Cullen Gandy finished sentencing 29 companies and 44 of their top executives.

It was a two-day job in Gandy's courtroom where he imposed total fines of $1,924,500 and 30-day jail terms for seven men.

A 45th individual, too ill to appear, will be sentenced later.

There were 20 indictments in all, brought in by four separate grand juries. The 14 remaining were disposed of Tuesday, after Monday's five-hour session.

All the indictments accused the defendants of fixing prices, maintaining them at high and artificial levels and restraining, suppressing and eliminating competition.

The defendants either pleaded guilty or no defense. The judge said both were an equal admission of the charges.

Company fines, totalling $1,787,000, must be paid within 10 days.

G. R. Jones Elected Head Of Chamber At Wellsville

G. Richard Jones, owner of Richard's Dry Cleaners, 427 Lisbon St., Wellsville, has been elected president of the Wellsville Chamber of Commerce.

Jones, who resides at 1520 Wyoming Ave., East Liverpool, succeeds Fred Houston.

Jones served as first vice president last year. He also is a past president of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club.

Other new officers are James Batey of Sterling China Co., first vice president, and John Bryer, of Acme Craft Ware of Wellsville, second vice president.

Batey was elevated from second vice president while Bryer was elected to the Board of Directors at the annual meeting in January.

L. H. (Dick) Keay of Potters Bank & Trust of Wellsville and Atty. William Bush have been retained as treasurer and secretary, respectively.

The new officers were elected at a reorganization meeting Thursday at the Central Federal Savings & Loan Association.

The board also accepted the resignation of Harold Neff of the Ohio Power Co. who is moving to Belaire. Neff also was elected at the annual meeting.

Harold Sneddon, local manager of the Ohio Valley Gas Co., was accepted as a new member.

Rival Tax Plan Introduced In West Virginia

2 Barron Opponents Say 'Package' Would Raise $18 Million

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—A rival tax plan amounting to an estimated $18 million in new annual revenue was introduced in the West Virginia Senate today by two Democratic opponents of Gov. Barron's personal income tax bill.

Introduction of the new tax package by Sens. Clarence E. Martin Jr., D-Berkeley, and Sen. J. Horner Davis II, D-Kanawha, came on the day when each house of the Legislature had Barron's $15-million measure up for amendment action.

The new bills evidently were timed with the hope of chipping away support of the Democratic governor's income tax bill. Unless there is a delay on amendment stage, it will be up for passage in each chamber tomorrow.

The three Martin-Davis bills would raise the retail sales tax to 4 per cent, with food and prescribed drugs exempt from any tax; impose a gross income tax by extending the gross sales tax to persons not now covered, and double the present 2-per-cent privilege tax on automobile purchases.

The gross income measure would extend the gross sales tax to professional and salaried people and others not now covered at a rate of 1½ per cent on gross income above $5,000.

Passage of Barron's income tax bill in the Senate and House tomorrow, if it comes then, will not be final. Each chamber would be voting on its own bill and final enactment comes only when one house passes the same bill that already has been approved by the other.

Assuming Senate and House passage of their bills tomorrow, the income tax still could not be passed finally until Monday unless one of two things happened: (1) one house or the other held a Saturday meeting, or (2) one house or the other mustered a four-fifths vote to suspend the rule requiring a bill to be read on three different days.

Present indications are that the vote on final passage will come in the House. And the present inclination of administration leaders in the House is to push for the final vote this week.

Supporters of the Barron income tax don't number anywhere near a four-fifths majority in either chamber.

City Schools Suspend As Fall Deepens

Relentless winter was burying the Tri-State District in another heavy snow today with the fall averaging nearly 5 inches in the Ohio Valley and lighter to the west and deeper to the east.

But the storm, the second this month, showed no signs of abating and many roads were reported clogged despite plowing.

Metered Parking Rule Lifted By Copenhaver

Safety - Service Director Lee Copenhaver ordered a suspension of parking meter regulations at 10 this morning after the snowfall built up to a point that made it difficult for motorists to maneuver into and out of parking spaces.

The city generally suspends ticketing for overtime violations in a heavy snowfall. The accumulation near curbs was boosted by snow shoved off downtown sidewalks.

City schools were ordered closed as of noon today as the snow showed no signs of abating.

The forecast was for "occasional light snow" ending by tonight, indicating another 2 or 3 inches, unless the density of the fall tapered. Last Friday's storm was the worst - staggering the area with a 9-inch fall.

The storm appeared to be spreading eastward as there was only light snow north of the county and Youngstown had little in the forenoon. The snow appeared deeper south of a line running from Canton to Lisbon for the Eastern Ohio area.

A number of schools, particularly in the rural areas, let out early Friday as a precaution that school buses could get the children home before roads clogged.

Supt. R. W. Betts said the decision was reached about 11:30 to shut city schools. All but Westgate closed at noon. The Westgate Elementary buses were to pick up the children at 12:30 and at the junior high at 1 p. m.

Wellsville schools remained open, according to Supt. S. E. Daw.

At 11 a. m., the office of County School Supt. James L. McBride in Lisbon said no schools in the county system had reported plans to close.

Beaver Local and Southern Local schools were operating normally, and each reported only one bus late.

Regular classes were held today in Hancock County and the Stanton Local school systems.

All nearby area Beaver County schools were reported open as usual, including Midland, South Side and Western Beaver County Schools.

Much like February's first snow of last Friday, it began about 2:15 a. m. and had reached 2½ inches at Dam 7 at Midland by 8 a. m. with no sign of a letup.

The Ohio weatherman had forecast 4 inches — some outlying East Liverpool areas had 3 inches at 8 — and flakes still were falling heavily.

At 11 a. m., the "snow stations" had 2 inches at Leetonia, 4½ inches at the dam and 3 inches at Millport. The Stratton Super-dam estimated 5-inches near noon.

The snow began early Tuesday night over southern Ohio and by this morning an average of 2 to 4 inches of new snow had been deposited over much of the southern half of the state.

Little or no snow was reported

Rep. Bettis Opposes Changes In Certificate Of Title Law

Opposition to a proposed bill changing the certificate of title law of Ohio has been voiced by State Rep. Warren Bettis.

"I have little sympathy for an individual who places a title to his car in another name," he said, "for it is often done for an ulterior motive. Rep. Bettis explained should the person die, the one holding the title is considered the real owner.

Should the measure pass, lending institutions could not rely on the certificate of title to show the true owner, and any claim liens on the auto would be subject to a person claiming some subsequent interest in the motor vehicle.

Rep. Bettis said he will support a proposed measure regarding the reporting of gunshot wounds to police authorities. "This is a good bill which prevents collusion between a person consulted by an individual who has a gunshot wound and attempts to cover it up.

Bettis has been appointed to a subcommittee to study an amendment to a bill designed to increase the minimum sentence for assault.

Rep. Bettis and Rep. Clarence Wetzel voted for a bill concerning the investment of police relief and pension funds which passed the House. They also backed bills to bring the salary of juvenile judges in line with other county officers and a measure concerning the repair of bridges on boundary line streams, Bettis reported.

Trumbull Vote Suit Ends After 9 Days

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — The hearing of the suit contesting the re-election of County Commissioner W. A. James ended Tuesday in Common Pleas Court after nine days of testimony. Judge W. W. Badger indicated a decision probably will not come for several weeks.

Judge Badger said 65 depositions could be taken from absentee voters, 63 of them from the Trumbull County Home, the Trumbull County Tuberculosis Hospital and other sick and disabled voters who took part in the Nov. 8 election in which Democrat Joseph Baldine charged fraud in absentee voting. Baldine lost to James after a recount by 29 votes.

Ex-Cleveland Woman Convicted Of Murder

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Mrs. Regina Bowker, formerly of Cleveland, Ohio, was convicted Tuesday of second-degree murder in the fatal shooting of her 45-year-old husband, Alex. No date was set for sentencing. Mrs. Bowker, originally charged with first-degree murder, collapsed on the witness stand as she told the jury about the shooting April 24, 1959.

She said she left her husband seven times in their 20-year marriage because he had affairs with other women. Each time, she said, she went home to her family in Cleveland but returned to Bowker at his request.

Food Stamps No Novelty

In Washington's acres of filing cabinets, in the memories of millions of Americans and in the record of five years of the Roosevelt administration is all the information about food stamps the Kennedy administration needs to know.

These are the high points:

The plan was the outgrowth of a New Deal idea. It started in 1939. It was successful. It spread rapidly and became nationwide. It was abandoned early in World War II when farm surpluses changed to farm shortages. It kills two birds with one stone — it uses agricultural surpluses to satisfy dietary shortages among the unemployed and the unemployable.

It worked best when food was distributed through regular outlets. In practice, it worked best in many places when stamps for surplus food were given outright, with no requirement for the purchase of stamps used for food in the regular channels of distribution.

There was no ready-made opposition to a food stamp plan. Grocers liked it, on the whole, because it stimulated business. Farmers liked it. Taxpayers liked it, because it was cheaper to distribute food for use than to pay for keeping it in dead storage; there was less waste and there was a terminal date for the government's responsibility.

The plan was set up in Rochester, N. Y., in 1939 and was discontinued in 1943. During 1942, an average of two million persons a month made food purchases with food stamps. Persons eligible to participate were on work relief, direct relief, or were receiving social security benefits and in need of additional aid.

If war had not altered the nature of the agricultural problem from surplus to shortage, it's likely the food stamp plan would have stayed in continuous operation. Those who studied it agreed that it worked. It relieved hunger and it relieved food surpluses — an ideal combination of needs and wants.

There's nothing new about food stamps.

The Open Road

A word of praise is in order for all who have played a part in keeping tri-state roads passable during the snow and ice.

At its best, theirs is one of the more thankless tasks on the list of thankless tasks. Those who do the plowing, scraping and ashing generally find themselves out on nights when most people are glad to be safe at home. And the district's hilly terrain only adds to their problem.

The road men, to be sure, are merely doing a job which has to be done. But at times in the bitter cold and ice it must seem a little beyond the call of ordinary duty.

There may be cause for complaint in isolated instances, but over all the work has been more than satisfactory.

How Russia Drives U.S. Lunik

The space age began on Oct. 4, 1957, when the Russians lobbed 184 pounds into orbit around the earth — Sputnik 1.

Sputnik II, a month later, weighed more than half a ton and carried a dog. That was the one which really impressed physicists, because they had no idea then and almost no idea now what fuel the Russians use to develop so much thrust.

The latest Russian space ship checks out at seven tons, against the half-ton objects the United States has been orbiting. The United States never has come close to Russian accomplishments. Its heaviest object has been only a fraction of the weight of Russian objects.

Their Lunik I, which went into orbit around the sun, weighed nearly 800 pounds, against the weight of 13.4 pounds for Pioneer IV, which the United States put into orbit around the sun.

Cool Proposals For A Hot Problem

No chief executive who hadn't been raised in a family where international finance was table talk would have been capable of making President Kennedy's recommendations for saving U.S. gold reserves.

Instead of thinking about the reserves as a problem in high finance, a president unaccustomed to high finance would have thought about the gold problem as a challenge to patriotic leadership. He would have ranted and raved about the fact international finance knows no national loyalty.

He would have hinted darkly about men who send money abroad to earn more profit and more interest. He would have complained about the shortsightedness of U.S. enterprise that goes elsewhere to compete more successfully with foreign enterprise, jerking the rug from under potential employees at home.

He would never have dared to promise that out-of-country investors be enticed to leave capital here with interest rates higher than those paid to U.S. investors.

The Once Over

If a government can be overthrown by Henrique Galvao it can be done by Gilbert and Sullivan, Alice in Wonderland, Don Quixote, and the ghost of Errol Flynn. From Portugal it must have looked like a revolution by missing persons.

Proclamation of victory against Salazar from a cruise ship thousands of miles away should go down in history as one of the most curious documents ever delivered by land, sea, or air. Our first thought was that it had been written by Brendan Behan in collaboration with Bill Saroyan, Salvador Dali, Walt Disney and the authors of "Mutiny on the Bounty."

Premier Salazar may be a tyrant and Portuguese people may be having it rough, but revolution by nautical cruise, ship radio, souvenir postcard and Hollywood movie script won't change things fast.

No government has ever been overthrown by so few so far away with so many ocean zigzags. Skipper who seized Santa Maria was trying to overthrow a government by practical joke, laugh episodes, compass changes and a sudden decision to skip Miami on winter cruise and stage a seagoing game of hide-and-seek.

Winding up at Recife, Brazil, Galvao delivered, "First revolutionary proclamation of the Portuguese National Independence Liberation Junta," which sounded as if he were just outside the palace door of the Portugal government, ready to move in.

He disregarded the fact he lacked sufficient crew, was short of fuel and could not guarantee where he had been, let alone where he was going.

"We are victoriously carrying out the first military action of forces under my command, the future army of liberty for Portugal and Spain," he declared while not sure where he could get his next cup of coffee.

"We proved Salazar is not invulnerable and beat him and his navy before entire Free World by ridicule," he added. This was like announcing unconditional surrender of a dis-

It is unlikely he would have been bold enough to suggest that Americans coming home from abroad be limited to $100 of duty-free merchandise, instead of $500.

The drain on U.S. gold reserves is a test of President Kennedy's ability to understand a technical monetary problem. International finance is not part of the common knowledge of even so well-educated a man as the young President. For most presidents it would be forever a black mystery.

It is apparent that President Kennedy has mastered most, if not all, of the technicalities of the problem. He is aware that capital owes no loyalty and acknowledges no obligation, other than to profit. His solution to the loss of gold reserves is not to punish anyone but to alter realities like interest rates and tax rates.

It is impossible to believe that any president in this century could have emerged with a cooler analysis of a currently hot problem than Mr. Kennedy's recommendations for slowing down the attrition of the U.S. gold reserve.

It even gave scores for students in tests they hadn't taken! It would seem the electric brain needs and IQ test.

The apparatus is used at Princeton, N.J., in examining college entrance tests. It is supposed to read and mark 100 sheets a minute. But it goofed. Parents and students are greatly disturbed and should demand that electronics brain be taken off the job until engineers remodel it so it will automatically put on a dunce cap when it makes a mistake. If a kid must get flunked let him get flunked in the old-fashioned way.

Pensions for ex-presidents of the United States came into effect in 1958, when Congress voted former presidents, including Herbert Hoover and Harry S. Truman, pensions of $25,000 a year, funds up to $50,000 for an office staff, furnished office space in a federal building, and free mailing privileges. After their deaths, their widows are to receive $10,000 a year.

Invitation To Come In And Get Warm

Machine May Settle Strike Issue

By Victor Riesel

Those automation magicians are developing a machine which some day may replace labor lawyers. This will panic my social circle.

But progress is progress. Nor is this a jest. A computer "memory box" will be constructed to hold the wisdom of 50,000 union decisions, arbitrations, precedents.

When a labor-management war breaks out, either side can punch a card, feed it back to the machine and know in advance how to fight it scientifically on the legal front and whether a strike will win or lose.

Since even the best legal minds can not afford an electronic brain, either the union or the company could subscribe to a central computer service. All this I'm told by a man who has become a scientist in the field, though he is a labor leader.

He is the "new" labor leader on labor's newest frontier. He is Howard Coughlin, president of the Office Employees International Union, AFL-CIO.

He is the newest of unionization drives—a campaign to unionize white collar workers by the tens of thousands. For his organizing staff he seeks college men "preferably with electrical engineering degrees and a knowledge of electronic data processing methods, systems and machines, such as an M.I.T. man in his middle 20s, the latest to be hired."

COUGHLIN BELIEVES he needs such men to cope with such problems as the electronic nightmare conjured up for 1½ million stenographers and typists by the Japanese "Sonotype." Coughlin has just heard from our embassy that this piece of office equipment will be operable and ready for sale in the U.S. in 1962. Sonotype typewriters a letter directly from voice dictation.

The Japanese are competing with RCA, which is working on its own "speak-write" typewriter. The Japanese invention takes a new kind of "speed-talk." This uses numbers to replace words which the machine may misunderstand such as hair, which could mean a rabbit or a crew cut.

While Mr. Coughlin develops a staff which will be able to wrestle with the coming white collar revolution in electronics he is directing the nation's most sprawling organizing campaign. He has primary and secondary targets.

Primary now is the "Blue Cross" system's 50,000 office workers—especially in the national headquarters in Chicago known as the Health Service, Inc. and Medical Indemnity of America, Inc. 200 North Michigan Ave.

Then will come "related insurance companies" which cover many union workers in other fields.

IN NEW YORK, his organizers quietly are working among the tens of thousands of white collar employees by such major banks as Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. and the Chase Manhattan. Some of Coughlin's colleagues have done right well with the clerical staffs of offices in shipping, trucking and stevedoring corporations.

Here you have the blend of the old and the new, the white collar and the blue denim shirt.

very same council which tied up the port and railroads, backed the white collar drives.

Thus Coughlin's upcoming target will be the waterfront offices of shipping and trucking firms in every major East and Gulf coast port.

RIGHT NOW Office Employees' (OEIU) organizers are in Houston and Galveston tackling the big Sealand Service, Inc. clerical staffs.

Recently the OEIU signed up the American Export line in Baltimore.

Coughlin will not go after the offices at the massive steel and auto plants—but he plans an ever-spreading white collar unionizing drive further inland. For there are not only 1½ million stenographers, but 24 million women in the American work force.

This is a vast field. It may make Howard Coughlin's union a most powerful one. After all, the female of the species easily is the strongest.

How Does Kennedy Look?

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON. How does President Kennedy look after less than three weeks in office?

If he follows the course of his first 20 days, you can expect this:

1. His is going to be a middle-of-the-road administration. It will be more liberal than conservative but it will shun extremes.

2. He will be an extremely active president. He already has poured out proposals to get the economy moving.

3. In foreign affairs he will be firm, non-belligerent, imaginative and human. He will try to do business quietly, without playing to the grandstand.

4. He will be very political-minded in dealing with Congress, unlike President Eisenhower who showed distaste for politics and kept hands off Congress.

5. He'll be the boss in his administration.

Perhaps the best example of his middle-road attitude is in his proposal to raise the minimum wage from $1 an hour to $1.25.

He could have suggested boosting it to $1.25 in one crack. That would have meant trouble with Congress, maybe no raise at all.

So he asked only for $1.15 this year—which is far as the Eisenhower administration would go—and $1.25 two years from now.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt's activity was limited to a wheel-chair. President Harry S. Truman got around in the usual, predictable way without mingling with people much. Dwight D. Eisenhower, except for golf, stayed rather alone in the White House.

Kennedy has hopped all over Washington: to a late movie; to friends' homes for dinner or a party; to the State Department to sit in on conferences.

He has been firm with the Russians in foreign affairs—too firm, they think—but has said nothing deliberately to irritate them.

He has made it clear he wants to deal with them quietly, has offered to cooperate with them on earth and in space. But he isn't rushing toward them.

He and his aides are studying the problems—particularly disarmament and nuclear testing—in the hope of finding answers, perhaps new ones, as he said.

Self-interest will be involved in American foreign policy, but Kennedy hasn't used it as a flag.

Indications are that Kennedy will be the boss in his administration, even if he has to slap down some of his own people to prove it.

When his ambassador to the United Nations, Adlai E. Stevenson, guessed out loud Kennedy would be glad to meet with Premier Khrushchev if he comes here, the White House quickly, crisply said Stevenson talked for himself.

Kennedy is not delegating authority as Eisenhower did with his chief assistant, Sherman Adams. There is no White House job similar to Adams'.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — The Salvation Army appealed for $2,000 with which to pay bills and to carry on relief work during the remainder of the year.

Chester High defeated New Cumberland 27-10.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — East Liverpool High School again was listed as an accredited first-grade school by the state department of education.

Mrs. Robert Frazier and Miss Margaret Eardley were welcomed as new members of the Mina Brokaw Society of the Orchard Grove Methodist Church.

Requests for use of auditoriums as meeting places for parent-teacher groups in four elementary school districts were given consideration at a meeting of the board of education.

TEN YEARS AGO — It was shown in a County Budget Commission estimate that East Liverpool would receive $237,619 from real estate taxation toward its 1961 operating expenses.

Liverpool Township was added to East Liverpool's Civil Defense territory.

The County School Health Advisory Council approved the adoption of a new health record card.

Stormy Chapter

Kurds are writing another stormy chapter in their long, tumultuous history.

The Asiatic tribesmen inhabit rugged mountains and deep valleys in the borderlands where Iran, Iraq and Turkey meet.

Though the region is called Kurdistan, it is not a political entity. Some Kurds also dwell in the Syrian region of the United Arab Republic, others in the Soviet Union.

Recent reports from Iraq tell of new clashes between Kurdish tribes — an old story in Kurdistan. In their 4,000-year history, the proud, independent people never have taken an affront lightly or submitted for long to any ruler.

Hostilities once broke out between two Kurdish clans, the Gabols and Zeidans, because a Gabol made a slighting remark about a Zeidan rider during an impromptu horse race. Fierce fighting raged for eight months and erupted again after two years of apparent peace. Two other Kurds quarreled so violently about the identity of a star that they came to fatal blows.

The Kurds fought the ancient Sumerians, Hittites and Assyrians, and stoutly resisted Arab, Mongol and Turkish invasions.

Ed Murrow's Problem

By David Lawrence

Funds, Coordination Needed By USIA Head

Appointment of Edward R. Murrow as the director of the U. S. Information Agency will not of itself solve the public - relations problems of this country in the world, able and experienced as t h e noted radio and television c o m m e n t a t o r happens to be.

The new director of propaganda w i l l find that he has little control over most of the impressions about the United States created abroad by press and radio and that the only place any real help could be given him is in the Congress.

For many months now the U. S. Information Agency hasn't been able to compete with the derogatory statements about the United States made by Democrats of prominence in Congress. One leader actually said in public that the president should have lied about the U2 incident, and he then proceeded to make an adverse report on the episode which was quickly accepted as authoritative and official by newspapers around the world.

This being a free country, there's no way to curb criticism, however partisan it may be, except by appeal to a sense of self-restraint.

There's really been no substantial change in American "prestige" in recent years except that which has come from the constant denunciation of Eisenhower policies — a barrage that was primarily carried on for political purposes.

For many months, moreover, a political campaign was conducted to make it appear that America's defenses were weak because of the so-called "missile gap." The facts were rarely presented in perspective, though finally the Democrats did admit that America is not so bad off in that branch of defense.

Oddly enough, although the prestige of the United States in such countries as Britain, France and Italy is considered important here, Congress has been niggardly about supplying funds to the U. S. Information Agency to convey America's viewpoint to the people of those same countries.

IN ONE BREATH it is argued that there is no need to publicize our policies in those countries because they are our allies anyhow but, in another, it is charged that our prestige has fallen to "a new low." Certainly members of Congress can't have it both ways.

Then there are the shortwave broadcasts each day in which Moscow excels not only in number but in quality.

For some strange reason, many of these American broadcasts lack simplicity. They are written for the eye rather than the ear. Moscow puts across its shortwave broadcasts in many instances in more understandable English than does the "Voice of America." This could easily be remedied.

The biggest single flaw in the whole information program is the lack of coordination of news.

Days and sometimes weeks will go by while a damaging impression is created and nothing effective is done to offset the harm. This requires not just the presence of Mr. Murrow in National Security Council meetings but a system that makes better use of the public - relations men in the White House and the other departments and agencies affected.

What is needed is to coordinate all of these sources of information and to monitor the news 24 hours a day from an American standpoint so as to take proper measures to inform the world of the truth.

The stumbling block, of course, is the cumbersome machinery of the government itself — the lack of understanding of news techniques by the men who form policy at the top.

SOME IMPORTANT decisions will have to be made, too — as, for instance, whether the U. S. Information Agency is going to be permitted to fight fire with fire.

Moscow places no limitations on its broadcasts. America supposedly sticks to reports of news happenings, with not the slightest help given the listener to understand the American viewpoint except when officials or newspaper editorials are quoted.

Timidity prevails even in the latter category, so that the propaganda of the United States is consequently weak and ineffective much of the time.

This writer listens regularly to the shortwave broadcasts. Unpleasant as it may be to say so, there is no question but that Moscow does a more incisive job of broadcasting, even allowing for its constant tendency to use outright lies to make a point.

America doesn't have to depart from the truth. It does need to stand up and fight the misrepresentation and abuse that is poured out day and night by the Moscow broadcasters.

This will never happen till all the high officials of our government and the leaders of both parties in Congress begin to regard seriously the need for the appropriation of more money for the U. S. Information Agency.

Funds are necessary not only for radio but for the all-important contacts with the press, since information bureaus must be maintained at American embassies and legations throughout the world, especially in countries that are considered fast friends of the United States.

In every allied country there is an anti - American propaganda apparatus which constantly blazes away at the United States and infiltrates the political parties and uses opposition party speeches and interrogatories in Parliament to knock down American policy as well as prestige.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

If you're still wondering whether the airplane is here to stay, upward of 200,000 passengers were unable to pass through New York City's three big airports — Idlewild, LaGuardia and Newark — during the storm that started on Friday and tied up things until Monday. At least 2,650 flights were canceled.

I am sure that nothing evokes a stronger response from older readers of this column than mentioning old-fashioned buckwheat cakes — the genuine article made with yeast and a built - in sourdough taste.

My mind is made up about Jacqueline Kennedy. She is too young and too pretty to be referred to as the First Lady of the United States, so I shall think of her as First Young Lady of the United States, instead.

As long as predictions come free, I want to predict that getting over this business recession isn't going to be like getting over a cold. Getting over this one's going to be like getting over a broken leg, because something like that happened to industrialism when it collided with automation.

If you, too, have been puzzled about delay in granting voting rights to District of Columbia residents, in presidential elections, remember that Congress was barred from doing anything by southern Democrats who bitterly resent the fact more than half of Washington's population is Negro.

No one will come up with a better summary of Russian foreign policy than this: Take an indefensible position, then claim gratitude for retreating from it.

I intend to play away at my pet proposal for bringing sense and order out of chaos: Not one cent of tax revenue shall be paid to squatters who use public streets for storage of their automobiles.

Please don't tell the Pentagon I said this, but about the missile race — How do I know the boys can load a missile with a nuclear bomb and make the thing go off? I've always been led to believe that was the trickiest part about the A-bomb — making the thing explode.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I went with this girl for two years. She's very beautiful and I considered myself lucky to have the pleasure of her company. I'm not very good-looking and I have a slight limp.

My job paid well and I was generous with Lila. When she needed $250 to get her teeth fixed I gave her the money. Last year her brother got into a little trouble and I paid a lawyer $300 in advance to take the case. I bought her many nice gifts and helped with payments on her car.

The company I worked for went out of business and I've been without a job for almost six weeks. Lila has turned very cold. Last night she told me I'd better start going with other girls because we are incompatible.

I had hoped one day we'd be married. What does this sound like to you?—BRUSHED OFF.

Dear Off: Take Lila's advice and start going with other girls. One who would drop you when the sledding got rough would make a poor wife.

Mooring Relatives

Dear Ann: Two years ago we moved to a lovely part of the United States. While some sections suffer from blizzards we have beautiful sunny weather.

My husband has some relatives he hadn't seen in years. Three months after we moved here they wrote that they would like to visit us. This couple came with two small children and they stayed 17 days. We gave them the best bedroom in the house and knocked ourselves out entertaining them. When they left it was just as if they had never been here. They didn't even drop a card saying thank you for the nice time. Yesterday we received a letter saying they had been meaning to write but were busy. They want to visit us again around Easter.

I feel we'd be fools to say yes. My husband says some people just aren't demonstrative and we shouldn't hold it against them because they didn't thank us last year. What do you say? DOORMAT RELATIVES.

Dear Relatives: There's a big difference between being demonstrative and displaying ordinary, every-day manners.

People who don't have the courtesy to drop a line after accepting 17 days of bed and board don't deserve to be invited back. Write that you'd be happy to make reservations for them in a hotel if they will let you know what they want to spend.

Your Granddaughter

Dear Ann: Four years ago our daughter had a child out of wedlock. We are raising the girl as our own although everyone in town knows of her background.

Next month we are moving to a distant city where we are not known. My husband says we should tell the truth because if the people in this town accepted us they will do so elsewhere. Furthermore, he says someone who knows the story is bound to appear and then we will look like liars and fools.

I say we should say nothing and let people assume the child is ours. After all this is nobody's business. What do you say?—UNSETTLED.

Dear Unsettled: Of course it's nobody's business but unfortunately this is the type of business some people like best.

Introduce the little girl as your granddaughter. No further explanation is necessary. For the child's sake you must not have two sets of stories afloat.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Burglar Gets Nothing After 'Cracking' Safe

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—More than three years ago the C & I Drug Store got a safe from a bakery on a trial basis. But nobody knew the combination.

An expert wanted $50 to open the safe. So it sat in the drug store unopened.

Until recently, that is, when a burglar pried it open and found nothing.

Scientists of the Lick Observatory say the surface temperature of the sun is 6,673 degrees centigrade.

Homes Flooded, Cars Upset When Water Main Snaps

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—A huge water main broke at 4:30 a. m. today and sent tons of icy water cascading down north St. Louis streets, flooding hundreds of homes and overturning cars.

A number of persons were evacuated by boat. Authorities said there was no known loss of life. At least nine persons, most of them suffering from exposure and shock, were taken to hospitals.

Natural gas service was affected and many householders were without heat in 20-degree cold. Streets on the fringe area of the flooded sections quickly turned to sheets of ice.

The sudden rupture in the main, one of the largest in St. Louis, sent up a geyser of water beneath a large water tower on a knoll (at 20th and East Grand Boulevard).

Water pressure failed over a wide area. There was no water in some sections of downtown St. Louis, three miles away.

Wellsville Request Filed

Dog Warden Asks Council To Construct New Pound

A request for a new dog pound was presented by Bill Long, city dog warden, at a meeting of Wellsville Council Tuesday night.

Long reported he picked up 11 strays during the day and has no place to house them. He said the old pound is not large enough and that people keep "breaking in and turning the animals loose."

Long said he is required to keep each dog for three days before destroying it.

Long suggested a 25-x-14-foot block building near the city sewage disposal plant. He said one dog he picked up has hepatitis, a disease which is highly contagious and also affects humans.

MAYOR WILLIAM SHOUB said he had planned to present a similar proposal to Council for consideration in its appropriation. He presented construction plans to Council which he said are elaborate and can be changed. The proposal was referred to the property committee for recommendations and estimates.

A letter was read from Robert Bycroft, head of the county's surplus food distribution program, in answer to complaints filed by Council on the poor quality of food.

Bycroft said he has never received such complaints before. He outlined how the program is operated and also reported butter will be added to the foods this month.

Councilmen William Stroble and Wilmer Ralston had reported at the last meeting that the cornmeal was wormy and other foods not suitable for consumption.

Bycroft remarked that if the city does not believe the program is worthwhile, it should withdraw.

SHOUB REMARKED at the conclusion of the meeting that he has had good co-operation from Bycroft. He also lauded Bycroft and the county commissioners for setting up a program of delivering the foodstuffs to the cities rather than making the recipients travel to Lisbon for it.

Stroble also remarked on the number of Wellsville residents presently unemployed. Council then ordered letters sent to Rep. Warren Bettis and Rep. Clarence Wetzel and Sen. Arthur Blake and Sen. Edmund Sargus, urging them to do all they can to speed up proposed legislation to extend unemployment compensation payments.

Councilman Robert Taggart said he has received complaints from residents of Russell Heights that the water service has been interrupted several times. Safety-Service Director William S. Robinson said it was caused by mechanical failure of the pumps.

Council suggested that a street in each section of town be roped off for sledding. Shoub said it can be done.

LEGISLATION governing the operation of taxi cabs was read. Councilman Clarence Cartwright had asked for a check on the legislation at the last meeting. Council may change legislation providing several parking spots for cabs on Main St. and in Cherry Alley.

Councilman Donald Miller remarked that he did not receive an itemized account from any department head as to the expenditures during January. He requested the accounts at a previous meeting.

Fire Chief Robert Lewis then presented an account for his department, explaining he did not realize how they were to be presented. Miller directed other departments to submit their reports immediately.

Miller called a finance committee meeting for Wednesday, Feb. 15, at 7:30 p. m. He requested Police Chief John Hepner and Cemetery Supt. Clyde Baker be present. Miller also remarked that the finance committee will have to give further study to a city income tax and learn the feelings of the people before taking any action. He said it is the feeling of Council that this is not the proper time for such a tax.

Water Main Break

CLEVELAND (AP)—City crews worked through the night into today to find and repair a water main break that flooded a 10-block area on the East Side. The break sent geysers of water through the sidewalk at Payne Avenue and 45th Street shortly after noon Tuesday. Payne Avenue was under two feet of water at one time.

Electricity and gas were cut off at police order, and some residents left their quarters after light and heat had been cut. There was no mass evacuation, however.

Former County Man On Probation Kills Self

LISBON—Funeral services have been held for Leo H. Gotthardt, 24, former Lisbon resident who took his own life with a gun in Clayton County, Ga., recently.

Prosecutor G. William Brokaw has been advised of the suicide by a Georgia coroner. The prosecutor said Gotthardt, placed on probation in 1959 for the theft of $167 in change from the Morris service station of N. Market St., had gone to Georgia after his wife without permission.

He became involved in an assault upon his wife, and an arrest warrant had been issued in Georgia, Brokaw said.

During Rotary Meeting

Parking Program Aired

Five reasons for a proper parking program highlighted a discussion by William B. Cooper Tuesday on the efforts of East Liverpool to create enough vehicle space in the downtown area for shoppers.

Speaking at the Rotary Club's meeting in the Travelers Hotel, Cooper outlined the work completed thus far in efforts to create adequate vehicle space for shoppers and discussed factors for consideration in further programs.

In pointing out that adequate parking facilities benefit downtown merchants and businessmen, Cooper said, "I am convinced that the city needs an additional 300 spaces for vehicles."

He emphasized "we are not competing store against store, but area against area."

HE POINTED OUT the city presently operates four public parking lots, constructed at a cost of $39,000, each blacktopped and metered. City officials are searching for space to construct more such lots. Cooper listed five points for consideration in determining why a proper parking program should be adopted. They are:

1.—To encourage shoppers from neighboring communities.
2.—To permit more traffic flow over the city streets, with elimination of bottlenecks and traffic snarls.

3.—To protect the tax base.

4.—To expedite traffic flow, possibly with parking on only one side.

5.—To possibly establish parking lots that can be paid off without the taxpayer's money, within 15-20 years providing additional funds to the city, if the program is well planned.

"WHEN PLANNING construction of a public parking lot, the No. 1 consideration should be its shape," Cooper said. "The ideal lot would be 60-feet-x-130-feet, or in multiples. The spaces should be 20 feet long and 10 feet in width. Women are the most important factor. They just won't park in narrow spaces only 6 to 7 feet in width."

"The lots should be constructed on vacant plots or on the site of old dwellings, in well-lighted areas, arranged with proper exits and entrances. They should be on the level also, as not many are interested in walking uphill. Preferably, they should be near a main artery of traffic."

In financing construction, he mentioned that the program should be designed so that in 15-20 years the lots will be paid off at the rate of $2 per meter per week.

He indicated that councilmanic bonds at 4 per cent interest is one of the better means of financing construction. "East Liverpool is at its lowest debt in history, and don't disturb the picture if you can get away with it," he added.

He pointed out the city of Ashland installed meters and was given five lots by a Real Estate Board. "There are ways to protect if we possess the proper tools," he said.

"Since 1955, the city has purchased only two lots, one is paid off, the other is going nicely. Total cost of the four lots was $39,000."

A community parking lot constructed by the city seven years ago did not turn out profitable at all, although it cost $17,500, he said. It has space for 150 cars.

HE MENTIONED the locations of other private and public parking sites in the city. The city-owned lots include two on 3rd St., and two others near City Hall.

City Council in past years has searched for other spots to construct lots, Cooper said. A desirable location on St. Clair Ave. has been selected as the site of a new service station. The city also has considered lots for W. 6th St., 5th St., and 4th St. and also looked toward Broadway. An offer was made for a lot on W. 7th St. "So there has been some activity," he explained.

In discussing traffic flow, he mentioned that "some people say that this is the main point. There are 72 million autos in the county now and East Liverpool has to take more of its share of traffic. In the not too distant future, there may be parking on only one side. We have to have a program to put vehicles on off-street lots."

"Lots should go right in the center of town, but that's where the most valuable land is. Preferably, they should be on the main arteries, so that shoppers may reach the stores without getting into the main flow of traffic, and leave after completing their business."

"East Liverpool is unique in that it is always the last to face up to its problems. The parking program must be balanced. We must make the shoppers want to come back, make them happy, potential customers, to make our shopping area what it deserves to be."

He was introduced by George Hargraves, president.

Canterbury Raps Rumor He Wants To Turn Catholic

LONDON (AP)—The archbishop of Canterbury today denied as "wildly untrue" a rumor that he desires to turn Roman Catholic.

The archbishop, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, told an Anglican Church assembly of bishops, clergymen and lay representatives that the rumor was that he was retiring May 21 because, having met Pope John XXIII Dec. 2, "I desire to submit myself to the Rome obedience."

"To that I need only say that it is just as likely, no more and no less, that the Pope having met me desires to become an Anglican," Dr. Fisher said.

The archbishop, who is 75, had announced he was retiring because he felt a younger man should take over his post as spiritual head of the Church of England.

Slipped Secrets To Soviet

Scotland Yard Detective Cites Official In Spy Case

By HAL COOPER

LONDON (AP) — A Scotland Yard detective testified today a trusted British civil servant ex-claimed "I have been a bloody fool" when he was caught slipping royal navy secrets to a Soviet agent posing as a U.S. Naval at-tache.

Detective Supt. George Smith told a magistrate that Harry F. Houghton, 55, a clerical officer in the British navy's underwater weapons department, later con-fessed to his part in the spy ring in an effort to clear his fiancée, because he had "dragged her into this mess."

Houghton was arrested with his fiancée, Miss Ethel Gee, 46, who worked with him at the secret naval research station in Port-land, as they kept a rendezvous in the heart of London with Gor-don A. Lonsdale, 37.

The government charges that Lonsdale was a Soviet agent who carried a forged Canadian pas-sport.

Detective Smith said Houghton told him that he persuaded Miss Gee to let him have a number of secret documents to be copied for Lonsdale, who had introduced himself as "Cmdr. Alexander Johnson," of the U.S. Embassy in London.

Smith testified he and fel-low detectives seized the three on Jan. 7 on a London street after watching Miss Gee hand Lonsdale a shopping basket holding two parcels.

The parcels, Smith said, con-tained four pamphlets relating un-derwater weapons tests and a can-packed with film of 212 pages from the highly secret royal navy book "Particulars of War Ves-sels," supposedly accessible only to trusted navy men and civil servants.

Accused with the two navy workers and Lonsdale are Peter Kroger, 50, a bookseller, and his wife, Helen, 47, who lived in sub-urban Ruislip—not far from the 3rd U.S. Air Force headquarters. The hearing now being held is to determine whether the five shall be tried for espionage.

Attorney General Sir Reginald Manningham-Buller told the mag-istrate Tuesday the Krogers' modest cottage was equipped with a powerful radio transmitter and re-ceiver which they used to keep in touch with a spy-master in Mos-cow.

The shortwave radio trans-mitter was found in a compartment beneath the kitchen floor.

The government said it also found in the cottage:

Tiny documentary films called microdots—documents reduced on film to a dot no bigger than the period on a typewriter.

A powerful microscope suitable for reading microdot messages.

Gas Concern Files Charges Against Union

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Fuel Gas Co. has filed unfair labor practices charges against the striking Utility Workers Union, alleging that picketing of several Toledo business establishments constitutes a secondarily boycott.

And the union filed countercharges Tuesday claiming the company has ignored the union as bargain-ing agent by bringing court action against 300 members of Local 349.

Ohio Fuel had filed suit to force members to return identification cards issued by the company. The charges were filed with the Na-tional Labor Relations Board in Cleveland. The union struck Jan. 20 in a dispute over a new con-tract.

Briefs To Be Filed In Defiance Trains Issue

DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP) — De-fiance has one 60-year-old ordi-nance limiting trains through the city to 10 m.p.h., and another for-bidding the blocking of a crossing for more than 5 minutes. If they were enforced, attorney Walter Hines contended in Municipal Court Tuesday, they would stop trains from passing through the city.

Defending a Baltimore & Ohio Railroad conductor accused of blocking a crossing overtime, he argued that some long trains can't clear a crossing in 5 minutes at that speed. Hines and City Soli-citor Charles A. Bakle were in-structed to file written briefs.

First Boat Since Feb. 2 Moves Through Locks

CINCINNATI (AP) — The first commercial river boat since Thursday moved through Ohio River locks at Dams 35 and 36 just upriver from Cincinnati Tuesday after a cold wave eased.

The U.S. Engineers reopened the dams to traffic late Tuesday, but said ice conditions had not changed significantly and at some dams, ice had piled up eight feet thick.

The dams were part of a 70-mile section between Chilo, Ohio, and Cincinnati where locks were closed to river traffic.

At Dam 35 ice was reported on most of the river for a 14-mile stretch and at Dam 36 the ice was backed up one-quarter mile.

Can't Determine Space Leader, Scientist Says

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — It no longer is possible to determine who is ahead in the U.S.-Soviet space race, says a top U.S. sci-entist.

Dr. Wernher von Braun said Tuesday night that U.S. space ef-forts were "so diversified and complex" that it was impossible to make "such a sweeping state-ment" as to who was leading.

He said the Soviets had been able to make deeper probes into space and had put up bigger rock-ets and bigger payloads, but that the United States had made "six times as many firsts."

Store Owner Wounds One Of 2 Holdup Men

CLEVELAND (AP) — A sharp-shooting owner apparently wound-ed one of two men who robbed him at his East Side store Tues-day night. Jack Strahosky Jr., 36, told police he fired at the men as they ran out the door with an undetermined amount of money from the cash register. One of the robbers returned his fire. Police found bloodstains, indicating that one of the men was hit.

Strahosky said he has a private pistol range in the basement of his home in Eastlake.

To Abandon Line

WASHINGTON (AP) — Author-ization has been granted by the Interstate Commerce Commission to the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad to abandon a 20-mile line between Blanchester and Hillsboro, Ohio. The ICC also authorized the Nor-folk & Western Railway to buy and continue the use of about a mile of the track near Hillsboro.

Management Tells Where Cars Built, Ford Official Says

DETROIT (AP) — Management and only management will decide where the Ford Motor Co. builds its cars, a Ford vice president told the United Auto Workers Tuesday.

The statement was part of a letter from Malcolm L. Denise, vice president for labor relations at Ford, to Kenneth F. Bannon, director of the National Ford De-partment of the union.

Last Thursday, Bannon, who with Denise appeared before the Detroit Chapter of the Industrial Relations Research Association, said that the two new models Ford is planning "ought to be built right here in Detroit. We have a lot of workers affected by automation ... why not help them?"

The union has been irked that Ford has not assembled any of its present compact cars at the big Rouge plant near Dearborn. Instead such operations have been carried out at Lorain, Ohio; At-lanta, Ga.; Metuchen, N. J.; Kan-sas City and San Jose, Calif.

5 Area Drivers Fined At Court In Palestine

Three city drivers were among five penalized at traffic hearings Tuesday and Monday by County Judge Herbert Arfman at East Palestine.

Ralph Springer, 314 Church Ln., was fined $5 and costs for speed-ing and Victor Smith, 926 Orchard Grove Ave., was fined $10 and costs for driving with an expired operator's license. Alvin Quarter-man of East Liverpool forfeited a $15 bond on a charge of crossing the yellow line.

William Clark, 441 E. Clark St., East Palestine, was fined $10 and costs for speeding and Robert Glover, 516 Buckeye Ave., Wells-ville, was fined $10 and costs for driving left of center.

Fremont Man Heads Ohio Hardware Assn.

CLEVELAND (AP) — G. Clair Zimmerman of Fremont is the new president of the Ohio Har-dware Association.

He was elected at the organiza-tion's 67th annual convention Tues-day to succeed W. W. Herring-shaw of East Cleveland. John C. Turner Jr. of Marion was elected vice president and John B. Kon-klin of Columbus was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Erickson Widow Dies

Lions Club Helps Obtain Guide Dog

The Lions Club has been instru-mental in arranging for a city man to obtain a new guide dog, the Board of Directors was told at a meeting Monday night.

The sight-saving committee in-vestigated the man's case and recommended to a Columbus or-ganization that a guide dog be furnished. The man will go to Co-lumbus for 30 days' training be-fore returning the dog here.

The committee also has purchas-ed three pair of eyeglasses for needy youngsters following an in-vestigation.

Plans also were made for the Charter Night Feb. 25 at Deramo's Restaurant in Midland. The board also discussed arrangements for its second annual minstrel show April 22 at Westgate School and the annual broom sale to raise funds for its charitable work.

Relief Sought For Family In $9,000 Fire

Clothing and furniture were being collected today for a Rock Camp family of eight whose two-story frame home was burned out in a $9,000 blaze late Tuesday morning.

Firemen from Glenmoor and West Point battled the flames at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tatgenhorst on the Y. & O. Rd. while the family was away.

Tatgenhorst, a coal mine employee without work for several weeks, was in Chester seeking a job, several youngsters were in school and the mother was visiting in East Liverpool.

A woman waiting for a bus spotted the smoke, and went to a nearby tavern from where firemen were summoned.

The family lost most of the furniture and clothing in the house in which a new bathroom had been installed recently.

The family includes Sally, 8; Tony, 11; Meredith Lee, 14; Leney, 17; Robert, 20, and Rebecca, 20. Another son, Bruce, 18, is serving in the Navy.

Most of the family is staying with Mrs. Tatgenhorst's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Williams, of Florence St.

Tatgenhorst, who had been working at the R. & R. Coal Co., today was obtaining an estimate on the possible repairs to the home.

Firemen, who fought the blaze for two hours, said the fire may have stemmed from the furnace. The Glenmoor department sent a truck, while the West Point department had nine men and two trucks.

Anyone with clothing or furniture to contribute may notify Glenmoor firemen at FU 5-4179 or FU 6-5109.

2 Salem Aspirants Quit May Primary

Two Salem residents today asked the County Election Board to remove their names from the list of candidates for city offices at the May 2 primary elections.

They are City Solicitor Scott McCorkhill, who had filed for re-nomination on the Republican ticket, and Nellie Jackson, a Republican candidate for the Third Ward Council seat.

Both the applications were made in letter form. McCorkhill did not give a reason for his action, simply asking the board to withdraw his name. His father, a veteran Salem attorney, died recently. The woman Council candidate said she withdrew because she understood she could not continue to work on a precinct staff if her name appeared on the ballot as a candidate.

Saturday at 4 p. m. is the deadline for candidates to withdraw. Three others withdrew earlier—one each in East Liverpool, Wellsville and Salem.

Changes Urged In Air Routes Which Involve Cities In Ohio

WASHINGTON (AP) — Civil Aeronautics Board Examiner Joseph L. Fitzmaurice has recommended a number of changes in the routes flown by Lake Central Airlines which involve Ohio cities. They include:

The Grand Rapids, Mich. to Indianapolis flights be extended to Cincinnati.

Two temporarily certified points in Ohio—Dover-New Philadelphia and Marion—be dropped because of insufficient traffic.

Zanesville be deleted from the Columbus to Buffalo, N.Y., route, but continue to receive service on the airline's new route between Columbus and Washington-Baltimore.

Richmond, Ind., to be dropped off the Indianapolis-Columbus-Cleveland route but remain on the Chicago-Cincinnati flights.

Applications by Springfield for service be dismissed because Lake Central does not want to serve it

Retiring Judge Matthews Cites Courts Changes

CINCINNATI (AP)—On the eve of retirement, Judge Stanley Matthews of the First District State Court of Appeals says the courts seem to have changed a lot in his 60 years as a lawyer.

The judge, on the bench 36 years told a reporter "I think I can see the lawyers and the judges try harder to get at the facts in an unspectacular manner."

"There is not so much eloquence at the court house today. There is more work."

Judge Matthews, now 83, said he was a Clinton County farm boy, and after graduation from high school, returned to the one-room brick schoolhouse on his father's farm to teach for two years. Then he quit to go to law school at the University of Cincinnati.

He was first elected to Hamilton County Common Pleas Court, then won a seat on City Council for five years before resigning to return to the common pleas bench.

He was appointed to the State Court of Appeals in 1935.

He said, "On the whole I have been very well treated. In all those years on the court of appeals I never had opposition (at election time)."

Young Alarmist

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—An 18-month-old girl, wandering around a bank while he parents conducted their business, touched off a near panic by turning a dial on the safe and sounding a burglar alarm.

Highway Bandits Rob Ohio Couple; 2 Are Arrested

MARIETTA, Ga. (AP) — Two men took about $5,000 in cash, clothing and jewelry from an Ohio couple in a highway robbery near here Tuesday night and a pair of ex-convicts were arrested a short time later.

Cobb County authorities said Leiland Harvey, 33, and Charles Howard Rice, 48, both of Atlanta, were being held in connection with the robbery of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Ross of Dayton, Ohio. Ross owns a motor company at Middletown, Ohio and said he and his wife were en route to Winter Park, Fla., for a vacation.

Police said Ross and his wife were robbed after their car hit the rear end of a disabled auto that two men had just pushed back on the four-lane highway a mile north of here.

Officers said the pair forced the Ross couple to drive to a nearby garage, where they robbed them and then drove off in their car.

The robbers also took a wallet containing $6 from a son of the garage owner and $180 from another Marietta man.

Police said Harvey has a long record for robbery, bank robbery and escape, and that Rice also has a long prison record.

In journalistic language, a purge is wholesale elimination, usually by execution or simple murder, of individuals who have gained the distrust of a modern dictator.

AFL-CIO Figure Urges Jobless Aid Extension

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio legislature should extend the unemployment compensation period to 39 weeks on an emergency basis, Elmer F. Cope, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio AFL-CIO, told the House Industry and Labor Committee Tuesday night. Cope said the action should be taken because there is no guarantee Congress will act on the problem.

Cope also criticized three unemployment bills before the committee. He said one of them (House Bill 184) is designed to place the burden of proof on an employer rather than the employer in the event of an employer's appeal of a claim for compensation. The measure is sponsored by Reps. Charles J. Jones, R-Butler; Jacob A. Shawan, R-Franklin, and Gilbert Thurston, R-Henry.

Wealthy Man Starts Term On Tax Charge

CINCINNATI (AP) — Harry S. Leyman Jr., wealthy Cincinnati executive, surrendered to the U.S. marshal Tuesday to start a year and a day in federal prison on a tax charge. He had been sentenced by Judge John Druffel in U.S. District Court last week for leaving off $600,000 from a tax accounting of his father's multi-million dollar estate.

Leyman, who got a one-week stay of execution to wind up his business affairs, was taken to Milan, Mich., federal penitentiary to serve his time.

Federal Probe Asked Of Ohio Roads Unit

CLEVELAND (AP)—City Council in suburban Brook Park, which has been feuding with the Ohio Highway Department over the proposed route of the Medina Freeway—a section of the North-South Freeway—adopted a resolution Tuesday night asking the federal government to investigate the state highway department.

Council wants to know why the highway department changed the route of the proposed freeway after getting plans that routed the highway through Parma. Councilman Raymond J. O'Donnell said he believed federal funds were used for the plans, therefore people have a right to know why the money was spent and the plans not used.

Turkey To Tell Soviet NATO Bases Defensive

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — The Turkish government will tell the Soviet Union any NATO rocket bases built in Turkey will be purely defensive, according to sources close to the Foreign Ministry.

The Soviets complained to Turkey last week about Turkish press reports that such bases were planned.

Okay Annexation

FREMONT, Ohio (AP) — Sandusky County Commissioners have approved a petition to annex 243 acres in Sandusky Township to Fremont. In the annexed area are the Potter Village Shopping Center and the Sandusky County Chamber of Commerce industrial site on which one factory, the Crown Rubber Co., has been built.

Both Autoists Cited By Patrol After Crash

Two drivers were cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon following a collision on Route 45 about a half mile north of Wellsville Tuesday night at 7:25.

A car operated by John Wallace, 45, of Lisbon R. D. 3, headed south, was making a left turn when it was struck in the rear by the car of Walter Henthorne, 25, of 1157 Mick Rd., Wellsville.

Damage was minor, and neither driver was hurt, officers said. Wallace was charged with failure to signal a turn, and Henthorne for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Only about 50 per cent of all salaried workers in America are perfectly happy and satisfied with their present positions, according to a recent poll.

Wellsville but believes all aspects should be investigated and weighed against one another.

Councilman Clarence Cartwright said the state had investigated such a proposal and turned it down.

Stroble said the state has made up its mind and is not going to change it. He then entered a resolution to hire the Sewickley firm and it was seconded by Cartwright.

Mayor William J. Shoub then objected strongly, asserting he was not informed of any such action previously.

He said that when the city hired an engineer for the sewage plant, it was discussed three or four months before action was taken.

He said various firms were interviewed before the final selection. "It seems you're trying to railroad something through," he charged.

Mrs. Mary Rahter, Council president, said the state is pushing the project and that the engineers had nothing to do with it. Shoub said he did not question the integrity or honesty of the firm.

Cartwright said "Council was not railroad anything," but that the project has been lying dormant for years and action should be taken.

Stroble said all engineers get a set percentage of the final bid price. Councilman Robert Taggart wanted to know when the state started pushing the project, adding he did not receive any word.

Mrs. Rahter said it "came from East Liverpool." "We were told we would be foolish not to take advantage of available money," she said.

Councilman Paul Nelson said he feels "it is a little early." Miller said that the commissioners did not commit themselves definitely that they would provide half of the city's share but said "they would go along."

Solicitor William Bush said Council should consider that the city would be responsible for the engineering fee even if the federal loan was not obtained.

Councilmen Cartwright, Stroble and Wilmer Ralston favored the resolution to hire an engineer. Nelson opposed it. Councilman Aguin Bowling refrained from voting.

Taggart said he couldn't vote until he studied it further and Miller abstained. Council will meet Friday night at 8 with the Board of Control and Bush to further discuss the situation. It will be a "private" meeting.

J. C. Thompson Heads County Club Officers

John C. Thompson was named president during election of officers at the annual membership meeting of the Country Club Tuesday night.

Thompson succeeds Winston A. Porter. John M. Koss was elected vice president and William B. Laughlin secretary-treasurer.

Trustees elected for three-year terms were Koss, Atty. Richard J. Clark and William A. Harris. Koss was re-elected.

The holdover trustees are Thompson, Porter, H. Russell Smith, W. I. McInerney, Lawrence Sixt and James W. Batey.

Chess Players Pick Officer

Charles Martin of East Liverpool has been elected to replace Fred Lanam as vice president of the Fraternal Order of Chessmen.

Lanam's resignation and Martin's election were reported at a membership meeting Tuesday night at the Newell Post Office building.

Clarence Wilson, president, presided.

Jack Rippeth, president of the East Liverpool High School Chess Club, was guest speaker. He was made an honorary member.

Glenn Earich, secretary, gave a report of the Board of Directors' meeting, which included the information about the new vice president.

It was reported a Junior Chess League has been formed by the directors to teach new players the fundamentals.

The vice president will officiate at contest play and the first will be at the next session. The club will meet on Wednesday nights beginning next week.

The next business meeting will be March 7. The board will meet Thursday night at 7 at the Post Office building to receive the new vice president.

The membership committee will meet at 8. It includes Wilson, Martin, Charles Carter of East Liverpool, Frank Sayre of Chester and Lanam of Wellsville.

Regular meetings will be held Feb. 21 and 28.

Charles Gause of Hanoverton, club advisor, gave a review of activities. The clubs have been in existence for 12 years with approximately 800 boys enrolled.

Joseph V. Burger, county extension agent in 4-H work, commented on the purposes of club work and activities and the club discussed future meetings, which include a club tour and tractor rodeo.

"Care—Not Repair" is the theme of the program.

Any boy between 10 and 21 may join the club prior to the next meeting Feb. 23 at Gause & Ritchie.

ed church, got religion and is "fanatical," making it hard on the people in town.

"I believe this is a poor thing to say, and if he didn't say it, he should go out and quell the rumor," Ralston said.

Miller remarked he had also heard such rumors and Councilman William Stroble said he, too, had heard remarks.

Councilman Clarence Cartwright said he has heard a lot but "I want to get facts before I make any statements."

Councilman Robert Taggart said policemen are supposed to do their duty on their own. Cartwright said it sometimes "isn't done if they aren't checked by the boss."

Ralston then remarked he heard the policemen have been told to "take it easy." Councilman Aguin Bowling said, "This has gone too far, if there is trouble, let's bring in proof."

Miller retorted, "No it hasn't." Taggart said Council is wrong to condemn him (Hephner) or the patrolmen until something sure is known.

Miller said no one was condemning the patrolmen. "When the ministers tell you about it, are they wrong?" he said.

Cartwright then asked if the ministers will make their accusations in public.

Council took no formal action on the complaints.

Police Chief Explains Possession Of Camera

Police Chief John Hephner of Wellsville today made the following statement in reference to him having personal possession of a city-owned camera.

"It is charged out to me and I am responsible for it. The value of the camera is over $500 and I am not going to leave it where it can be carried off or lost in any way. The camera can be used by the department at any time but it must be returned to me."

Hephner said he would report any of his actions to the proper authorities and that the "proper authorities are the mayor and safety-service director."

He made no comment on other criticisms at Council Tuesday night.

Jury Is Charged In Assault Trial

Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp this morning charged the jury in the assault and battery trial of Eugene Beaver, 43, of Glenmoor. It was expected that a verdict will be reached today.

The case of Albert E. Shasteen, 36, of Lisbon R. D. 1, charged with operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent, began immediately after the charging of the jury. This case may be completed sometime Thursday.

Criminal Court will not convene Friday or Monday and the next case to be heard has not been set up yet, Prosecutor G. William Brokaw said.

Jurors selected for the Shasteen trial are:

Ida Mae Cline of East Liverpool, Ethel Grawford, Clarence Fogo and G. W. McCartney of Wellsville; Louis Slaby, Margaret Smith, Helen R. Hurray and John Fritzman of Salem.

Margaret Roessler of Lisbon, George Benton of East Palestine, Jessie Barcus of Salineville and Clara Bradfield of New Waterford. Alberta Smith of Salineville is the alternate.

Meets With De Gaulle

PARIS (AP)—A special envoy from Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba met with President De Gaulle today to explore whether Bourguiba could help arrange peace talks between the French and the Algerian nationalist rebels.

Snow

over the northern counties during the night.

It was a repetition of Friday's storm in other aspects — state, county and city road crews were called out early, first to cinder then to attach plows to attack the growing depth on the outlying roads.

In East Liverpool, street department crews began to spread ash and salt at 4 this morning, repeating the rounds as the snow continued to fall.

By 8 a. m., major grades such as Lisbon St. had been ashed three times, but the quickly-accumulating snow still made it heavy going for work-bound motorists.

The new snow was wet because of the comparatively high temperature. It had a greasy consistency that quickly made streets and highways treacherous. By 8 this morning, there were tie-ups on grades such as Dresden Ave. near the 9th St. traffic light and on Broadway above E. 3rd St.

Round-the-clock work since Friday, aided by a thaw yesterday, finally had succeeded in clearing away snow from curbside areas in the business district by Tuesday. But the rapidly-accumulating snow this morning quickly eradicated most of the hard-won progress.

Safety-Service Director William S. Robinson said Wellsville street crews are ashing the hills but not much else until it can be determined how much snow is to accumulate. He said the big trucks are being used to "break trails" through side streets for emergency vehicles.

Gaylord Zellers, superintendent of the State Highway Department's garage at Leetonia, said all 18 crews were called out at 4 a. m.

He said only an inch was recorded at 8 a. m. but southern areas of the highway Division 11 area had up to 3 inches early today and already were plowing roads. County Road Supt. John Neill

Come To Parting Of Ways

DiSalle And Cloud Collide On General-Fund Spending

By ART PARKS
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and Republican House Speaker Roger Cloud of Logan County never have seen exactly eye to eye. Now they have come to a parting of the ways.

DiSalle created the open break with a blistering denunciation of Cloud's stand on the governor's controversial bill calling for general-fund spending of about $75 million in the next two years above Ohio's anticipated revenue.

The governor used such words and phrases as "completely partisan" and "dictatorial" in referring to a Cloud statement that majority Republicans in the legislature have no intention of enacting new taxes to pay for DiSalle's spending proposals.

"It is time for Roger to admit he has become completely partisan," DiSalle asserted in a news conference, "and that he is representing an extremely reactionary point of view which ignores the fact that Ohio is a growing state with increasing problems."

The governor's hot remarks in response to the Cloud statement appeared to end the six-week "honeymoon" between the Democratic administration and the Republican legislature.

The exchange, for all practical purposes, was the opening salvo in a 21-month campaign which will end in the November 1962 state election.

It probably was appropriate that the DiSalle-Cloud disagreement should be over money matters; all the rest of the legislative session will be filled with money problems.

The governor said both Democratic and Republican legislators are complaining over the slow pace of the session, particularly about the delay in extending jobless aid to those who have exhausted their benefits.

DiSalle will insist that Republicans take the "blame" for failure to cover what he calls the "needs" of the state. Republicans will insist that a reduction in what they say is waste and extravagance will leave plenty of money to meet the state's real financial needs.

So far, majority Republicans have refused to introduce DiSalle's out-of-balance appropriations bill. Cloud intimates the GOP is considering a redrafting job before the bill, which has languished three weeks, is introduced.

Unless the Republicans act quickly to get an appropriations bill before the House, DiSalle told his news conference, the Democrats are ready and willing to introduce the DiSalle bill themselves.

Traditionally, the House Finance Committee chairman—this year it is Rep. Ralph Fisher, Wayne County Republican—introduces the appropriations bill no matter whether his politics agrees with that of the administration.

DiSalle said the Democrats may make their move late this week, or perhaps next week.

At one point in his denunciation of Republican policy in the legislature, DiSalle referred to the GOP as a party which has become "so obligated to special interests that it cannot speak on behalf of the real needs of the state."

He said he referred to "$2,098,000 collected by the Republicans in campaign contributions between May and December 1960 against about $135,000 by the Democrats."

The Cloud-DiSalle squabble stole the show for the legislative day. The Senate received nine bills and passed one; the House received only five and passed two.

The Senate completed legislative action on a bill which, to do any good, must be signed by the governor by Thursday. It is an emergency bill to clear the way for pay increases for combination probate-judicial judges in 43 counties. The raises were approved four years ago, but an obsolete section of law was discovered some time ago which would have blocked them in absence of the emergency repealer.

The House passed and sent to the Senate an emergency bill to place 42 Ohio communities which became cities in the 1960 census into general health districts. Rep. Harold W. Oyster, R-Washington, told the House the measure will not affect 17 new cities which already hold contracts with health districts. He said these new cities would be affected.

North Ridgeville, Brunswick, Independence, Willard, Broadview Heights, Hubbard, Amherst, Avon, Avon Lake, Beachwood, Belpre, Bedford Heights, Blue Ash, Brook Park, Brecksville, Crestline, Eaton, Greenfield, Greenhills, Hilliard, Huron, Lebanon, Louisville, Loveland, Madeira, Newton Falls, Middleburg Heights, North Canton, North Royalton, Perrysburg, Reynoldsburg, Richmond Heights, Rittman, Seven Hills, Sheffield Lake, Silverton, Solon, Stow, Strongsville, Sylvania, Warrensville Heights and Westerville.

The House also passed a bill to tighten laws on such conveyances as mortgages, leases and liens, against fraudulent practices. The bill now goes to the Senate.

Among measures introduced were bills to:

- Increase contributions by employers to the unemployment compensation fund from a top rate of 2.7 per cent of $100 payroll to 4.1 per cent.
- Give two-week paid vacations for township employees with one year's service and three weeks after 15 years' service.
- Reduce the percentage required to approve a school tax levy at a special election from 60 per cent to a bare majority.
- Authorize the director of public works to sell 10 acres of state land in Clark County which was cut off from a state park by relocation of U.S. 40.
- Authorize state universities to accept donations for scholarships.
- Help curb vandalism by permitting persons bringing vandalism actions to share in fines.
- Provide that the four highest vote-getters for a village council shall get four-year terms and the next two in line shall receive two-year terms.
- Five proposals to shift Ohio's congressional districts to make room for a 24th district for which the state became eligible last year were sent to a House subcommittee for review. Most observers believe there is little chance for a redistricting plan this year and that Ohio's 24th congressman will be elected at-large in 1962.

Stanton Tops Springfield, One Game From Perfect Season

Wellsville Averages Earlier Loss In 57-44 Win Over Central

HERE'S WHERE Stanton Local's Don "Wilt" Spires has the edge on his opponents. The 6-foot-6 junior star gets far above Springfield's Gary Howell as he is ready to sink a basket in Tuesday night's Stanton-Springfield contest at Amsterdam. Spires scored 33 points to pace the Ironmen to their 15th straight victory.

Bucher Rehired By Lisbon Board

LISBON — Edwin (Bud) Bucher was rehired as head football coach of Lisbon High School for the 1961 season at a meeting of the Board of Education Tuesday night.

Bucher, who has coached at Lisbon for 15 seasons, resigned from his post in September after the fourth game of the season following a disagreement with Supt. of Schools Russell Armitage.

The veteran coach re-considered his decision and re-applied for the post.

N. Cumberland Gets Over 13th, Tops Sherrard Five

MOUNDSVILLE — Three New Cumberland starters broke into the double figures to pace the Blue Raiders to their 13th victory in 17 starts with a 59-47 decision over Sherrard in a game played at the Moundsville Fieldhouse Tuesday night.

New Cumberland held the upperhand all the way, breaking from a 16-9 first period lead to 23-13 at halftime and 43-24 after three quarters.

Ron Haynes, a 6-foot senior, led the attack for New Cumberland by pocketing 20 points but was backed up by Charlie Miller's 16 and Tom Hale's 10 markers.

United Posts 61-47 Win Over Winless Opponent

United Local raced to an early lead and went on to post an easy 61-47 victory over winless Jackson-Milton Tuesday night at the Hanoverton area school.

Jerry Schaffer, 6-1, scored 19 points to lead the Golden Eagles to their fifth victory in 15 games. Schaffer, one of the top scorers in the Turnpike Conference, sank seven goals and five fouls.

The defeat was the 15th in a row for Jackson-Milton.

Hanna also hit double figures for United with 14 points. Larry Marks collected eight. Gorgier led the losers with 13 points.

Chuck Schmidt had one of his top night's of the season with 20 points. Dale Ashcroft added 16.

Spires' 33 Points Lead To 15th Win

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Only Newell stands between Stanton Local and an undefeated season. The Vikings are Stanton's opponents Friday night in the final regular game of the 1960-61 campaign and the game is at Irondale.

If Stanton can get by Newell, it will mark the first undefeated season in the school's history. Following the final game Friday, the Jefferson County Class "A" tournament opens Feb. 16 at Brilliant.

Stanton Local's victory string was tottering Tuesday night, but Coach Harry Diehl's Irons regained their poise which has brought them this far and went on to win their 15th straight game of the season by downing a fired-up Springfield team, 74-69.

The Irondale five did it the hard way before a jam-packed house of over 800 fans at Amsterdam.

Until last night, Springfield was undefeated on its home floor in eight outings, but clutch-shooting Don "Wilt" Spires and his teammates proved to the Tigers that there is a first time for everything.

Spires, who poured in points when Stanton needed them the most in the hectic fourth quarter, wound up with 33. This brought the 6-foot-6 eager's total to 335 in 15 contests. It marked his next best performance in the scoring department. The 35 he scored against Salineville was his top mark of the season.

The game was actually closer than the five-point margin indicates. A full-court press, and flaring tempers, had the Stanton five worked up in the late stages.

WITH ONLY 2:52 remaining in the game, Springfield had shaved Stanton's lead to two points, 67-65, and a few minutes before that the Irons had only held a one-point edge.

Springfield had cut the margin from 15 points which Stanton held at one time in the third quarter and had the Irondale crowd on the edge of its seats.

The fact that Springfield lost two of its starters on fouls in the last six minutes of play proved to be a big factor in the outcome.

Starting center Dale Featheringham and a little pepper-pot guard, Bob McConnell, left in the fourth quarter.

Spires was almost forced into coming up with that good 33-point night in order to match the spring magic of Dick Sivets, Springfield's 6-foot deadeye who scored almost automatically from the extreme corner time after time.

SIVETS wound up with 31 points. Of the 15 field goals scored by Sivets, at least 12 were thrown up from either corner.

Stanton wound up hitting a very respectable 51 per cent, connecting on 28 of 54 shots. Coach Diehl's well trained Irons were deadly from the foul line where the eventual margin of victory came.

Springfield won the battle from the field—30-28—but Stanton dropped in 18 of 26 free throws.

The Tigers had the right idea on how to break up Stanton's fine zone defense. They just kept shooting away and wound up getting 89 shots, hitting on 30 for 37 per cent.

Rounding out the Stanton scoring were Bob Mills, who popped in 14 points and John Lutton 12. Jim Leedy tossed in nine and Curt Rose, playing with a pulled leg muscle, contributed six points.

Stanton Local again earned its name of Ironmen as Diehl elected not to substitute.

STANTON GOT off to a good start by making four straight buckets before missing. The first quarter ended with Stanton on top 18-13.

The Ironmen repeated in the second quarter by tossing in four more consecutive buckets that shot their lead to 27-19 midway in the period.

Stanton maintained a 38-31 margin at halftime. In the first half Sivets dropped in 21 of his total points and Spires scored 17.

Two quick buckets by Spires opened the second half and when Rose hit from underneath with 5:41 remaining in the third quarter, Stanton had its widest margin of the game, 50-35.

By the time the period ended, Springfield had whittled the count to 56-49.

Stanton never trailed in the game, but the action became furious and the noise deafening during the last eight minutes.

Springfield kept chopping away and when McConnell hit two straight buckets, the Tigers were within three points, 60-57, with 6:05 remaining.

Spires and Featheringham exchanged buckets. Then Mike Groman, who had replaced Featheringham when he fouled out, stole the ball and drove for a bucket that pushed Springfield to within one point, 62-61.

Spires turned in a three-point play, then added another basket as he swung off the pivot.

With 2:52 remaining, Springfield had the count back down to two, 67-65, but Leedy pushed through three straight fouls. Spires followed up for a bucket and Mills hit two key fouls for Stanton's 74 points.

Springfield finished on top in the reserve game, 31-20. Sweeney paced the winners with 10 points, while Scott Porter hooped seven for the young Ironmen.

Johnson Stops Bowdry In 9th To Cop NBA's Light-Heavy Ring Title

JESSE BOWDRY heads for the canvas and defeat after a combination of rights and lefts to the head and a right to the body by Harold Johnson in the ninth round of the NBA light heavyweight championship at Miami Beach Tuesday night. (UPI Telephoto)

By WHITNEY MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Harold Johnson is the new National Boxing Association world light heavyweight champion, but he still isn't quite happy.

"I don't feel like I'm the champ yet," the usually taciturn Philadelphia said in his dressing room Tuesday night after stopping young Jesse Bowdry of St. Louis in the ninth round to win the blessings of the NBA.

"When I beat the old man (Archie Moore) I'll get that feeling."

Moore knocked out Johnson in the 14th round in Johnson's only other shot at the title. The NBA whisked the crown from Moore's furrowed brow when he took an indifferent attitude toward defending it.

The sharp-featured, muscled Johnson has been seeking a return bout since that 1954 kayo, with frustration piling on frustration. Tuesday night he put his frustration to work. Usually a cautious fighter, he suddenly turned tiger.

He put Bowdry on the canvas three times in a classic variety of poses, and after the third knockdown referee Cy Gottfried decided the wobbly, woozy, rubber-legged youth was in no condition to continue.

The end came in 45 seconds of the ninth round. The record crowd of 4,017 which paid a non-record $20,829.50 started whooping.

Johnson was a whirling pinwheel of action as the ninth opened. He threw punches from everywhere, with a solid left to the midsection the clincher.

Tigers Have Won Last 3 Contests

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

Team play and pinpoint shooting continued to brighten the fortunes of Wellsville High's on-coming Tigers Tuesday night as they disposed of Steubenville Central Catholic, 57-44, to gain revenge for a previous reversal at Beacom Memorial gym.

The triumph, significant in that it was over a Sectional Class AA opponent, was the third in a row for the tall Tigers who appear to have bid farewell to difficulties which plagued them early this season.

Steubenville Central had whipped the Tigers at Beacom gymnasium, 57-50, in early January but this time around Wellsville asserted its potential to gain revenge.

The second encounter between the two squads was played at Wellsville by mutual agreement because Steubenville's new Diocesan fieldhouse is not completed.

Four starters collected double figures for Coach Jack McDevitt's Wellsville squad with big Bob Kiggins leading all scorers with 16 points.

The Tigers got off slowly but pulled away to a 21-14 lead with 4:42 left in the second quarter and were never headed. Central gained an 8-8 tie after the first period but could never quite catch up after Wellsville's 19 point burst in the second quarter.

Shooting 48 per cent from the field (26 of 54) the Tigers gained their seventh win of the season as against five defeats.

Coach Francis Sebring's Crusaders, having trouble in finding the range against Wellsville's zone defense, shot only 30 per cent in connecting on 18 of 60 field goal attempts.

The Crusaders lost their seventh game in 14 starts.

A consistent offensive attack highlighted Wellsville's victory. Senior Rod Ferguson, 6-4 forward, hit well from the corners to score 12, sophomore Steve Baldwin and guard Roger Ours delivered 10 each and Phil Baldwin scored seven. Ben Cannadate also broke into the action to flip in one field goal.

Steubenville placed only one starter in double figures as Joe Drosak hit six goals and a foul for 13. Tom Eroshevic, who hit 20-plus in Central's previous victory, netted only eight.

Steve Baldwin, 6-5 sophomore, continued to show ability to rebound with authority. He collected most of his points with soft, jump shots from the outside.

Kiggins increased his point total for the season to 242, an average of 20.1 per game.

Wellsville held a 42-32 lead after three quarters and opened the fourth by quickly moving far in front on a jump shot by Kiggins, Ferguson's tip and Steve Baldwin's jump shot for a 49-32 lead.

The quick blitz virtually sealed the outcome as Central managed to connect on only five of 16 shots in a final quarter attempt to rally.

A crowd of 625 saw the Tigers open a busy week of activity. They entertain Chester Friday night, then clash with Goshen Union Saturday night in Salem High's gymnasium.

In the preliminary, the Wellsville reserves also enacted revenge for a previous loss to Central's reserves by scoring a 47-42 triumph.

Coach Carl Firm's Tiger reserves won their eighth in 12 games. Leading the way were Andy Dash with 10, Alvin Thompson and Frank Luckino with nine each and Alvin Jackson with eight.

Midland, Beaver Win; Set For Showdown Contest Friday

Hutton Leads Brisk Attack With 20 Pts.

In a red-hot battle decided in the final minutes, Newell's Vikings edged Salineville Tuesday night, 66-65.

The Vikings of Coach John Robinson raced to an early lead, but then fell behind at halftime after a near-fantastic 30-point blitz by Salineville in the second period.

Salineville held command until the final period when Newell managed to slip ahead and pull the game from the fire.

Three starters hit in double figures for Newell with Larry Hutton sparking the attack with 20 points. Mickey Staley delivered 16, while Ron Noland hit for 15.

The narrow victory was the 10th of the season for Newell as against six setbacks.

Salineville also came through with a fairly-well balanced attack as rugged Bud Leatherberry poured in 18 points in one of his best nights of the season, while Paul Kelley and pint-sized Ron Gannon netted 16 points each.

Gannon, only 5-8, hit 40 points last week. The burst against Newell increased his average per game to a flashy 19.2 with a total of 289. A senior, he hit six goals and four of five foul shots.

Coach Dick Jones' Indians now shows a 7-8 record for the season to carry against Beaver Local Friday night at Salineville's court.

Newell also is in for some tough opposition Friday night in visiting Stanton Local, unbeaten in 15 games.

The reserve game went to Newell, 66-62.

Redlegs Sign 2; Purkey's Holdout

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds reported today they signed two more players for '61, but pitcher Bob Purkey is still a holdout.

General Manager Bill DeWitt said he received signed contracts from third baseman Gene Freese, obtained from the Chicago White Sox in an off-season deal, and Mel Queen, promising rookie.

Freese hit .273 and 17 homers for the White Sox in 1960. Queen batted .257 with Palatka of the Florida State League.

Purkey, Cincinnati's winningest pitcher last year with a 17-11 mark and a 3.59 earned run average, said Tuesday he is far from agreement with DeWitt.

He said he turned down two contracts already and added, "I've been offered a raise but they might just as well keep it. It's only a token raise."

St. Louis Five Continues Jinx Over Warriors

By The Associated Press

The St. Louis Hawks, with an 11-game lead, are well on their way to the Western Division championship in the National Basketball Association. They already can claim they're champs of the Philadelphia Warriors and Wilt Chamberlain.

When the Hawks rallied in the last quarter, to pull out a 127-124 decision over Philadelphia Tuesday night, it was their fifth over the Warriors this season and the 11th straight time they've beaten Philadelphia in St. Louis.

They didn't stop Chamberlain's rush toward his second league scoring title. Wilt scored 37 points, barely under his season average, and grabbed 21 rebounds.

Somewhat more sensational was the performance of New York's Willie Naulls, who scored 49 points as the Knicks finally ended a 6-game losing streak with a 131-124 victory over the Detroit Pistons. The New York victory came after the pacesetter Boston Celtics had edged the Los Angeles Lakers, who had to play without Elgin Baylor, 96-95 in the opener of a Madison Square Garden double-header.

East Junior Notches 11th

East Junior sprang loose in the final quarter to top Salem, 45-38, for its 11th victory in 12 starts Tuesday at the East End gym.

The contest was a nip and tuck affair all the way. Salem led at

FIELD AND STREAM

By R. L. LIDE

Nature's children, like the little doe that got stranded on an ice floe near East Liverpool last Saturday, can get into some of the worst predicaments.

Just why it would venture out into the frozen Ohio River, is hard to understand.

The deer was about 100 yards off shore and lying down when I arrived. It appeared to be stuck in the ice or possibly crippled.

A pistol shot was fired, not at the deer, and it got on its feet. Then it slipped into the open water and by swimming and scrambling around it made about 50 more feet towards the West Virginia shore and was able to reach temporary safety on another cake of ice. I don't know how it finally made it, but nothing could be done, especially since it was in West Virginia territory.

ONE INDIVIDUAL wanted to shoot it, thinking it would be an act of mercy.

In my opinion that would have been wrong, not only from the legal standpoint, but where there's life there's hope. Another thought it could be rescued by the use of a boat. I hope no one was foolish enough to try and rescue a live deer in treacherous conditions by the aid of a boat and rope.

A news release last week stated Paul Wang of North Georgetown has 40 consecutive hunting licenses among his treasures.

I got a card in the mail from Thomas H. Sturgeon of Salem saying he has bought a hunting license since the first one was issued in 1913. Thomas said he obtained his first one from James Cameron in 1913, when James was the clerk of Butler Township. Incidentally, James Cameron is still living just south of Damascus in what is known as The Valley. Only difference between Mr. Wang and Mr. Sturgeon is that Mr. Sturgeon did not keep his to show. If he had, no one could beat his record.

This prolonged snow condition we are experiencing has played havoc with 'coon hunting. Even if we get a break in the weather before 'coon season ends at midnight Feb. 14, the animals will be in pretty poor condition after using up most of the winter-stored fat.

Even though they hibernated to a certain extent, this hibernation usually ends when the weather breaks and they come out to feed at every opportunity.

A TRAPPER caught a 'coon during the beaver trapping season in one of his beaver traps. It was the skinniest little thing and the only reason the trapper took it was because one of the front legs was about half torn off by the trap.

The last beaver pelt brought in to be sealed was the 43rd one. This is possibly the last.

It was taken by a woman trapper from Vienna, in Trumbull County, on state property at Echo Dell. She and her husband looked at their traps every two hours.

Each time the traps were sprung, but no beaver. They finally managed to trap one. Goes to show that there is more to beaver trapping than just setting a trap. Lots of other trappers had the same experience.

No Intrasquad Games Slated For Indians

CLEVELAND (AP)—The usual intrasquad games will be missing from Cleveland Indians' spring training this year.

That is the decision of Manager Jimmie Dykes, and like many of Dykes' decisions, this one has a story connected to it.

"I've never believed in 'em," Dykes said of intrasquad games. "Not since Charley Perkins, anyway."

It seems Perkins was a fine pitching prospect with Philadelphia under Connie Mack some 30 years ago. He was strong and full of confidence—until Mack decided to pitch him against the regulars one day.

"Well, Max Bishop doubled, Mule Haas tripled, Al Simmons doubled and Jimmie Foxx homered. I singled and they yelled at me for stopping the rally," Dykes said.

"Roger Cramer's playing center field behind Perkins and his tongue's hanging out from all the chasing. He yells in at Perkins: 'Hey! Walk somebody, will you, so I can get some rest!'"

"At any rate, Perkins was never much good after that. And that's why I don't go for intrasquad games."

That isn't the only reason. Dykes feels there is too little to be gained through intrasquad games and too much to lose, through injuries, for example.

The Indians will of course be playing exhibitions with other teams, the first one March 11 against the San Francisco Giants in Tucson.

The Tribe received the signed contract Tuesday of infielder Joe Morgan. This leaves only four players unsigned, all pitchers: Jim Perry, Barry Latman, Dick Stigman and Wynn Hawkins.

Wolfpack Surprises Duke On Sub's Long Field Goal

By DON WEISS

Associated Press Sports Writer Everett Case, the silver-haired fox from Indiana who made big-time basketball a byword along Tobacco Road, isn't winning championships with the monotony of his first decade at North Carolina State.

But his Raleigh Wolfpack still has that knack for an upset snack against a touted team.

Third-ranked Duke became the latest victim of Case and the Wolfpack Tuesday night, falling to its first Atlantic Coast Conference defeat and only its second in 18 games—61-59 on sub Terry Litchfield's long jumper with two seconds left.

While State was showing it should still be reckoned with in the ACC tournament that determines the league's NCAA representative, Texas Tech, Princeton,

Wittenberg Continues 2 Win Streaks

By The Associated Press A long winning streak was continued and an 18-game jinx was broken in Ohio college basketball Tuesday night.

Wittenberg, despite being able to hit only two field goals in the first 9:43, posted its 44th straight home-court victory and its 27th consecutive Ohio Conference win by swamping Heidelberg 70-38.

The Tigers (8-0) need nine more loop victories to tie the conference win streak mark held by Wooster.

The inability to hit the basket was apparently catching in the Springfield game as Heidelberg's Princes went more than 10½ minutes before dropping in their initial bucket.

The end of the jinx came at Ashland where the Eagles defeated Findlay 83-79 for their first victory over the Oilers in the last 19 meetings. In the first half things ran true to form but Ashland caught up just before the buzzer and then led all through the second half of the Mid-Ohio League tussle.

In another Ohio Conference game, Jeff Slade, the league's leading scorer and rebounder, tallied 27 points and grabbed 16 rebounds to lead the Kenyon Lords to a 66-58 conquest of Denison.

Ohio Wesleyan kept winless Hiram deep in the Ohio Conference cellar with a 99-63 triumph over the tormented Terriers. The Bishops, who hit a hot 56.8 per cent from the floor, are 10-3 in the loop and 13-3 over-all.

Arnold Palmer represents the Laurel Valley Golf Club in Lig-onier, Pa.

Rhode Island, and Kentucky improved their conference ledgers and St. Joseph's (Pa) moved closer to a tournament berth.

Texas Tech, with Harold Hudgens scoring 25 points, went into a pressing zone, made up a 14-point deficit and beat Arkansas 72-66 for its sixth Southwest Conference victory in seven starts. Texas A&M took over second place at 5-2, beating Rice 79-59, while Southern Methodist spilled defending champion Texas 70-63.

Princeton got 22 points from Al Kaemmerlen and 21 from Pete Campbell for its fifth straight Ivy League triumph, 77-55 over Penn, and Rhode Island moved to within a half-game of Yankee Conference leader Maine by scoring 12 straight game-ending points for a 71-65 victory over Massachusetts.

Patterson Prefers Horror Movies-Watches 1st Fight

SPRING VALLEY, N.Y. (AP)—Floyd Patterson must prefer horror movies to happy endings. The world heavyweight boxing champion watches the films to his first fight with Ingemar Johansson—not the second.

As Patterson was knocked down seven times in the first fight when he lost his title, and flattened Ingo the second time around, it seemed like a strange choice.

"The first fight is when I made the mistakes," explained Patterson to newsmen visiting his training quarters at a country club. Did Patterson expect to abandon his peek-a-boo style?

"I don't think so," he said. "Did you think I did in the work-out? I was trying different things. But in an actual fight, I would have my hands back up there."

(Patterson's peek-a-boo style, in which he holds both hands high to block off head punches, has been criticized by many.)

Patterson, who plans to leave for a Florida camp next Tuesday, said he weighed 196 "about a week ago" when he last stepped on the scales. That is six more than he weighed for his second fight with Johansson last June.

"I am not trying for any particular weight," he said. "Whatever comes is all right with me. I like to work with heavy sweat pants. Before other fights they were afraid I would take off too much weight so I boxed in trunks only. But this time I have weight to spare."

Patterson boxed four rounds Tuesday in training for his March 13 third fight with the Swede in Miami Beach. He didn't over-exert himself against his sparring partner, Wilson Hannibal, and the champ's 18-year-old brother, Ray, who is competing in the Golden Gloves as a heavyweight.

The club will meet next Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. at Platt's.

Name Adopted For Proposed High School

The Western Beaver County Board of Education Monday evening adopted a name for the proposed new junior-senior high school in Industry.

The new building, for which bids will be opened Feb. 16 in the office of the State Public School Building Authority in Harrisburg, will be called the "Burgett Building," as the Western Beaver County High School.

It is being named after the Thomas Burgett family, from whom the board purchased the old Burgett farm on which the new building will stand. It will be across the Fairview-Ohio View Rd. from the new Ray W. Snyder School.

The Burgetts have been interested in a new school for the area and sold the land at a low price. Mrs. Fern Burgett is a retired school teacher.

A temporary loan of $100,000 was approved until a state reimbursement is received in March. Bills of $108,994.57 were ordered paid.

and the two largest items were tuition to the Midland School District and architect's fees for the new high school.

A group of residents from Meadowbrook Estates attended and requested a change in the bus route in their area. The request was referred to the transportation committee for study.

A group of applications from youth groups, requesting use of the multi-purpose room at Fairview School in Ohio Township, was approved. They were presented by Ed Stephens, chairman of the building and grounds committee.

An official bus schedule was adopted by the board for the district as presented by John Flasco, transportation chairman.

The board met at the Ray W. Snyder School. James P. McClaskey, president, presided. Next meeting is March 6.

Ohio's Jobless Front Has Black, Bright Tone

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The weekly jobless report of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation had both a bright and black tone today.

First, the survey showed that new claims for benefits dropped from 34,030 in the week ended Jan. 28, to 29,207 in the week ended Feb. 4. In February of 1960, the average weekly number of new claims filed was 13,037.

But continuing claims of those unemployed one week or more climbed from 215,562 in the week ended Jan. 28, to 222,521 in the week ended Feb. 4.

Some of this increase came from a number of layoffs in electrical appliance and automotive industries - plants that reduced work forces temporarily for inventory readjustment, and because of a lag in sales.

155-Year-Old Tavern Is Damaged By Fire

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Damage by a fire that broke out early today in the white-columned, 155-year-old Unionville Tavern in Madison Township was confined to an apartment on the third floor. No one was injured.

Firemen from North Madison and Geneva battled the flames for more than an hour before bringing them under control. Cause of the blaze was not determined and no official estimate of the damage was available.

The two-story wooden structure, which was begun in 1797 and completed in 1805, once was a stage-coach stop between Cleveland and Buffalo and later was a station on the "Underground Railway."

Lisbon Board Given Plan On School Hours

LISBON — School hours, classroom needs and faculty changes for the 1961-62 term were discussed at a meeting of the Lisbon Board of Education Tuesday night.

Supt. Russell Armitage suggested a revision in the opening and closing times for the schools.

The proposed hours, with the present schedule in parenthesis, include: Elementary Schools—8:55 a. m. to 3 p. m. (9 to 3) Tuesdays through Fridays; Monday would be 8:55 to 2:10 and High School—8:15 a. m. to 3:45 p. m., except Monday when classes would be dismissed at 3:15. (8:25 to 3:45).

Supt. Armitage explained the Monday schedule will include teacher's meetings, part on school time and part on their own time. At present, teacher meetings are held on the faculty members' own time.

The need for two additional classrooms outside the present school buildings for the next term was also reviewed. It was reported the eighth grade at the high school will be transferred to the Lincoln School.

Supt. Armitage reported at least two faculty members do not plan to remain for the next term. They include Gerald Chappel, speech therapist, who intends to work on his master's degree at Northwestern University, and his wife, who is teaching an elementary class.

It was reported legal advertising will start this week for the proposed $350,000 bond issue on which residents will vote May 2. It is designed to provide 14 new classrooms at McKinley School.

The purchase of a $2,803 supply of maps over a three-year period was authorized under the Title program in which federal funds will be used to pay half the costs.

A survey by Rand McNally showed the need for replacing maps in the district, some of which date back to 1918. The purchase schedule will provide $1,245 the first year, $1,100 the second and $458 the third.

A salary adjustment was approved for Mrs. Judy Bryan, kindergarten teacher, following completion of special studies toward a degree.

The board authorized payment of bills amounting to $39,200, including $31,368 for salaries and the remainder for supplies, cafeteria expenses and bond retirement.

Four members of the Citizens Committee attended.

The board will meet tonight at the Lincoln School with representatives of the Junior Chamber of Commerce who asked for the session to determine if the organization could aid in promoting the proposed bond issue.

The board will meet again March 7.

Episcopal Church Files Suit Contesting Will

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — The Episcopal church has filed a suit here contesting a will by one of its longtime parishioners who bequeathed $260,000 to a catholic nursing home.

The petition filed Tuesday asserts that Mrs. Sylvia Ann Morgan, an Episcopalian for most of her active 93 years, "was not of sound mind" when she made out a new will after her conversion to catholicism and shortly before her death last Dec. 30.

She didn't leave the Episcopal church a dime, the petition said.

Curve Balls, Spring Trouble Coming Subjects For Science

By The Associated Press

Curve balls, thunder, copper atoms and Spring trouble coming are subjects for science at work:

Curve Ball

What makes a spinning ball—in baseball, table tennis or golf—curve?

A side force, something like a cross wind, develops to push the ball aside, scientists reported at the American Physical Society meeting.

A baseball pitched at moderate speed, spinning 30 revolutions a second, can move up to 1½ feet off course by the time it crosses the plate. A slow pitch curves more than a fast one, since it spends more time curving.

Experts say there is scientific evidence for a sharp-breaking pitch—a baseball taking a sudden change of direction.

Measure an Atom
Copper atoms behave as if they were tiny round balls—so small it would take 99½ million of them lined up to make an inch.

How do physicists know? They use an electric plating device to measure the amount of charge it takes to deposit a certain amount of copper on an electrode.

If you buy a pound of copper, they say, you are buying 4,300,000,000,000,000,000,000 (43 and 23 zeros) copper atoms.

Anatomy of Thunder

Why does thunder rumble when heard from a distance?

The rumble is partially an echo of the original thunder clap, reflected back from a layer of ice, water and water vapor in the thundercloud itself, a researcher reports.

And what causes the thunder claps heard at short distances? The branching of a lightning bolt. Each point of the branch produces a single explosion heard as a thunderclap.

Bad News

Trouble is gathering underneath all that winter snow. Crab grass sprouts better after a hard winter.

Somehow the severe frost seems to add extra zip to the germination of crab grass seeds, report horticulturists for the Dow Chemical Co. Crab grass dies every fall, but leaves an enormous crop of seeds to sprout in the spring. The seeds also benefit from the frost break-up of the soil and the added moisture from heavy snows. Crab grass killers prevent new seeds from germinating.

Wellsville Legion Chooses Boyce As New Commander

William Boyce, second vice commander, was elevated to commander at a meeting of Wellsville American Legion Post 70 Monday night.

The action was taken after the post accepted the resignation of Clyde Hurd, commander, and Ed Self, first vice commander. Boyce will name his own first and second vice commanders.

The post voted to send a letter of thanks to Mrs. Gladys Meade, owner of Mead's Restaurant, for the donation of a shuffle board alley to the post. It was announced a shuffle tourney will be held in the near future for doubles and singles. The winners will be presented all-expense paid trips to the state basketball tournament in Columbus.

William Powell, Boyce, Harry Excell and Dan Shepherd were named to a committee to plan a minstrel in March. It will be presented at the Liberty Theater. Tony Bernardi of Chester will serve as director.

J. V. Hughes reported the Columbiana County Legion Council will meet at the post Friday night at 8. He urged all members to attend.

Excell was presented an award for obtaining the most new members during a recent membership campaign.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Unnamed New Wagonmaster

John McIntire, who played the friendly old detective on "Naked City" a couple of seasons ago, is the top candidate to take over the late Ward Bond's job as the friendly old wagonmaster on "Wagon Train."

Producer Howard Christie begins shooting a "Wagon Train" episode today in which Lee Marvin (another ex-TV cop) plays the substitute wagonmaster, but the train's passengers don't like him. He's too much of a pusher and just plumb mean. Then the train comes on to McIntire, who is wandering around the prairie out of his head.

McIntire turns out to be a retired wagonmaster who was bringing his family out West to settle. While he was off scouting, his family was wiped out (Indians?).

WELL, IN NO TIME at all, McIntire is nursed back to reasonable sanity, and when the passengers vote to toss Marvin out on his ear, they ask McIntire to take over temporarily.

He will appear in two or three episodes before June. This first one is to be aired around the first week in April. Ward Bond's last film will be seen Wednesday, March 22, with Ed Wynn as guest star.

The problem now is to find a good name for McIntire. Obviously he can't be Seth Adams, because that was Bond. So far, the producer has three name suggestions in the hopper—Steve Howard, Christopher Hale and Andrew Stone.

Name - choosing conferences in Hollywood have been known to go on for days, but this one will have to make a decision today, or for the first time in history we'll have a wagonmaster known as Hey You!

THE STUDIO AUDIENCE got a big yak from those cracks Jackie Gleason made about the booze in the coffee he was drinking during his we-laid-an-egg confessional, but one of his sponsors didn't think it was funny.

It was the cereal company, and when Jackie asked for an increased budget to get high-priced guests for subsequent gab sessions, the cereal executives said, "Huh-uh."

They evidently felt that booze and corn flakes don't blend in the business of imagery, so as long as Jackie is adding these shows, he'll get no extra money from his cereal sponsor.

Comedians have howled long over this censorship of their comedy on TV by sponsors, but occasionally they bring it upon themselves. Drinking spiked coffee on TV (if Jackie was) and talking about it is only mildly funny, and a little childish. Jackie may have lost more than he gained here.

REP. FRANCIS WALTER, chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee, is all set to "Face the Nation" (CBS) and Bishop James A. Pike of the San Francisco Episcopal Diocese, probably Thursday, Feb. 23.

When the network first approached Rep. Walter to debate the subject of the future usefulness of his committee, he declined for himself and any of the committee members. What changed his mind was a speech delivered by Bishop Pike at the recent Episcopal Diocesan convention.

Bishop Pike outspokenly rapped the pretenders to the throne of the late Joseph McCarthy, but intimated that Rep. Walter was not one of them because he (Walter) did not have the stuff demagogues are made of.

Evidently Rep. Walter did not consider this a compliment. He immediately let CBS' Fred Friendly know he would be happy to appear on "Face the Nation," provided Fred could furnish Bishop Pike as his opponent.

IT WAS A BAD WEEK for June Allyson last week. After a tearful divorce court session to dissolve her marriage with Dick Powell, she discovered that PTA magazine chose to review her TV show in the following manner:

$746 Drop Shown In Court Revenue; City Given $3,070

Municipal Court income totaled $3,540 in January, down $746 from the $4,286 shown in December, Clerk Wilbur J. Harmon said today in his monthly report.

The court turned over $3,070 of its revenue to the city treasury, a drop of $657 from the $3,727 given the city in the preceding month.

The city's share was made up of $465 in costs from civil actions, $2,407 in fines, costs and forfeitures from criminal cases and $198 in penalties from State Highway Patrol cases.

In addition to the amount paid the city, the court turned over $198 to the state treasury, also from patrol cases, $178 to the county treasury and $94 to the Law Library Association.

The total amount handled by the court last month hit $7,079, up $873 from the total of $6,206 handled in December. Funds handled last month included $3,264 in the civil branch and $3,815 in the criminal branch.

A big increase in the number of cases disposed of marked January business. A breakdown showed: 56 civil cases filed during the month, 117 disposed of and 194 left pending; 35 city criminal cases filed, 60 disposed of and 29 left pending and 46 state criminal cases filed, 65 disposed of and 79 left pending.

Thoughts On Turning 50

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Help!
I am on the verge of being 50 years old.

When a glance at the calendar told me that this month I'd reach the half-century mark, at first I simply couldn't believe it.

Then as the inescapable certainty dawned on me that it was only too true, I felt a sense of indignation. What angered me most was seeing strangers laughing and joking as I passed them on the street.

What kind of dull clods were they? How could they smile during a month in which one of their fellow creatures—even if they did not know him—was turning 50?

Well, that's human nature for you.

This feeling of resentment was succeeded by one of numb horror. Where had the last 10 years gone? Why, wasn't it only yesterday that Father Time had pushed me, kicking and screaming, past my 40th milestone?

I had decided then that a man's 40th birthday was the worst moment in his life. Life begins at 40? I was sure that what began at 40 was second childhood—and in a way it does. (It is at least another adolescence, and any adolescence is trying, even one without pimples.)

How quickly the decade since I was 40 had fled on antelope feet. And so little to show for its passage! That is one of the hardest facts to adjust to in middle age: The days often seem endless, but the years go by like railway cars in the night.

And now I stand on the edge of 50, still wondering how it happened.

The puzzlement still endures, but I am no longer resentful or horrified. After all, you can't whip time.

And in a way time has changed me very little. I was born bald, fat and howling at the world's injustice. Fifty years later that still describes me about as well as anything.

There is also one tremendous consolation denied to many my age. The first lady I saw on earth is still alive at 73, although her hair is now almost as white as the snow that fell outside our home the stormy day she bore me back in 1911.

She knows I am a birthday fighter, and as usual she'll send me a card and a scrawled note of advice:

"Son, son, don't struggle so hard against what has to be put up with. When will you ever learn to sit loosely in the saddle of life?"

She'll also know—whatever I think of turning 50—that I am still deeply grateful for our first meeting, and every year we've shared, together or apart, since then.

A really elderly gentleman of 55 I know told me:

"My boy, you are just entering the true golden years. They hold priceless rewards you have never had a chance to enjoy until now. Tell me about those rewards," I asked.

"Tomorrow," he promised. "Right now I'm on my way to see the doctor about my arthritis. It's killing me."

Oh, well. Never laugh at anyone reaching 50. Just keep your chin up—and it'll happen to you. If you're lucky.

A person who talks in his sleep is a somnoliquist.

Cuba Official Raps Priests In Bomb Plot

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's regime kept up its bitter anticlerical campaign Tuesday night with a charge by Defense Minister Raul Castro that Roman Catholic priests are active in bomb plots against the government.

The prime minister's younger brother told a crowd of several thousand roaring students one priest was caught planting a bomb at a munitions depot and another was arrested trying to join invaders from the Dominican Republic.

It was one of the strongest attacks on the clergy since the Castro came to power, and once more the target was Spanish-born priests, the majority of the clergy in Cuba. The Castro regime claims they act on the orders of Spanish dictator Francisco Franco.

Despite his charges, Raul left the impression the Communist-dominated regime plans no immediate action against the church. He called for patience in the face of "anti-national" activities by the priests and said the regime always will insure religious freedom.

Shortly after the rally, a bomb explosion was heard in suburban Miramar. It was the 10th in the last three nights.

Raul's appearance in Havana was a surprise in view of reports the government has gathered the biggest concentration of armed forces in the nation's history to attack rebel strongholds in south-central Cuba's mountains.

An estimated 60,000 Castro men reportedly have sealed off 1,600 to 4,000 insurgents in the Escambray Mountains of Las Villas Province, 185 miles southeast of Havana. All civilian movement for 50 miles around the mountains has been restricted.

Informed sources said the rebels are the best armed and entrenched opposition the Castros have met since the overthrow of dictator Fulgencio Batista and that a battle, if it comes, could be one of the bloodiest in Cuban history.

Springfield Takes Step For Low-Cost Housing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The first step in obtaining low-cost public housing in Springfield was taken here Tuesday when the Ohio Housing Board approved the establishment of the Springfield Metropolitan Housing Authority.

The new group, to be composed of five members, will set up the public housing project. The low-cost homes are needed for an estimated 67 families being displaced by Springfield's urban renewal project.

AP Business News Analyst
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — How did the big antitrust conspiracy among most of the nation's makers of electrical equipment start? How did it spread? How did it work?

In corporate circles many claim it just grew naturally in an attempt to bring order out of a chaotic situation. The industry was plagued by frequent ups and downs, by price cutting in which only the big could survive, by inability of small companies to enter new fields.

So it turned to what similar companies often do in Europe, to what was done here during the depression under the NRA.

Once started, price fixing and market dividing kept on growing. The federal government says operations became almost perfect in the industry which averages $2 billion sales a year. Some executives borrowed methods they probably had read in who'dunits.

Fines for what the government calls a cynical and long-established violation of antitrust laws came to almost $2 million—and more startling to many businessmen—seven of their colleagues are sentenced to jail for 30 days.

The Justice Department scoffs at company pleas that the deals actually were good for both the makers of the big gadgets and the public and customers because market stability benefits all.

The government says the customers—public and private—were faced with rigged bids to maintain or raise prices and give all hands a predetermined percentage of the business. Good for business maybe—but against the law.

Getting started was relatively simple, as shown in the statements by government and defense attorneys before Chief Judge J. Cullen Ganey in U. S. District Court.

In this specialized industry most executives know each other and meet frequently at conventions such as the completely above-board ones of the National Electrical Manufacturers Association.

Shop talk after hours involves sales prospects, prices, bad times or good ahead, how cutthroat competition can be met.

Once it was decided to do something about it, more or less regular meetings were held.

Here's how it was done, as set forth by the government in charges to which companies and individuals pleaded guilty or no contention.

Prices were agreed upon and often business apportioned by seeing that companies took turns in making the best bid for a job.

Sometimes rotation was made by frequent checking of market conditions. Sometimes it was automatic, each taking its turn at a prearranged time. Sometimes it was geographic—areas set up in which specified companies rotated with the winning bids.

The government charged, and defense attorneys admitted, two types of meetings: the high level at which prices and shares of business were set; the low level, at which subordinates saw to the rotation of winning bids as market conditions determined. (Some companies say their very top men were unaware of the practice at all.)

The bubble burst when customers complaining that American bids over the years looked too much alike and were well above foreign bids for the same equipment.

'Consumer Would Get Better Break'

DiSalle Seeks To Modify Utility Rate-Base Formula

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle today asked the Republican-controlled legislature to pass the same bill modifying the Ohio utility rate-base formula which was defeated by a Democratic-dominated House two years ago.

"This, at least, would be a step forward," the Democratic governor asserted in a special message to the legislature. "It would help reduce the tremendous advantage held by the public utilities in Ohio. It would give the consumer at least a 50 per cent better break than he has today."

As the governor pointed out, the formula by which utility rates in Ohio are established has been a point of controversy for many years.

Present law provides that consumer rates shall provide utilities an adequate rate of return based on the estimated "reconstruction cost new, less observed depreciation (RCN)."

DiSalle wants a new formula which will give equal weight to RCN and "fair value."

Under present law, DiSalle asserted in his message, five big Ohio utility firms show a return to holders of common stock of 12 per cent on their actual investment as compared with 8 1/2 per cent in California.

The governor asserted RCN is an unfair and unrealistic approach to the rate formula problem. It places an unrealistic and unduly inflated value on utility company property, he said. He cited an example:

"Should we today," he asked, "attempt to reproduce a 1912 automobile which no doubt would cost a great deal more than its efficient counterpart of today?"

"Unless we were interested for historic reasons in producing this model, why would we go to this expense if the product would be less efficient and more costly than any automobile that could be purchased from a dealer's showroom today?"

"The increase in cost of such a model would stem first of all from the fact that it would be impos-ible to purchase parts on the market today. Many of these parts would have to be manufactured.

Tooling costs to produce these parts would be excessive in view of the results.

"Would we want to spend the money necessary to reproduce the type of wheel on a 1912 model, the type of lighting, the bulb-type horn, the fragile tires, at costs greatly in excess of the cost of today's products and wind up spending three times of what it would cost to purchase a modern efficient model?"

"Yet this is the system that we use in determining the value of a utility property for rate-making purposes."

"To be sure, obsolescence is taken into account and somebody's guess as to the per cent of obsolescence is subtracted from the valuation, but this only makes more obvious that the end result is not a measure of true value, but only a purely arbitrary calculation."

"We disregard completely the book value of the property," he added.

"It becomes quite evident that the public utilities of Ohio enjoy a favored position."

3 Ohio Children Claimed In Fire

CELINA, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Orville Jutte returned from across the road where she had gone to buy milk Tuesday and found her home in nearby Wendelin on fire and her three children trapped.

Two of the youngsters suffocated and the third died of burns a few hours later.

The victims were Kathleen, 6, Richard, 3, and William, 22 months. Richard was alive when firemen reached him, but he died Tuesday night in a hospital in Coldwater.

The Juttes were living in the basement of the unfinished home. The origin of the blaze has not been determined. The State Fire Marshal's Office has been asked to investigate.

Another U.N. Deadlock Due Over Congo

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Lack of Soviet-U.S. agreement dimmed prospects today for any decisive U.N. Security Council action to ease the crisis in the Congo.

Despite the threat of spreading civil war in the chaotic new African nation, it appeared that the current council debate would wind up in another deadlock.

The council adjourned Tuesday night, with its next meetings to be held either Friday or next Monday. Members will confer privately, seeking some solution.

Hope for effective council action had been stirred by word that the United States was consulting privately with the Soviet Union and other council members in an effort to reach agreement on an over-all U.N. Congo policy.

Adlai E. Stevenson, chief U.S. delegate, said he was hopeful but not at all confident about eventual U.S.-Soviet agreement. He made the statement after a two-hour private meeting Monday night with Valerian A. Zorin, head of the Soviet U.N. delegation.

Zorin commented that he did not see any indication that the United States was seriously changing its position on the Congo. A spokesman for the Soviet delegation said the new Kennedy administration "has not brought a new approach."

Pneumonia Fatal

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Lew Schreiber, 60, vice president and executive general manager of 20th Century-Fox Film Corp. died Tuesday of pneumonia. Schreiber, who started his show business career at the age of 18 when he took a job with the late singer Al Jolson, joined 20th Century in 1932. He was born in New York City.

Sen. Young Advises On Routine For Funds

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — U.S. Sen. Stephen M. Young has advised Mayor Frank R. Franko that he must go through U.S. Rep. Michael J. Kirwan of Youngstown for money for the projected Lake Erie-Ohio River canal. Kirwan is the ranking member of the House Appropriations Subcommittee. Franko had appealed to President Kennedy and Ohio senators for a prompt start on the canal as an anticrisis move for the Youngstown area.

Young, in a letter to Franko, said he had talked with Army Engineers "who stated there was nothing in the budget for a proposed Lake Erie-Ohio canal and furthermore no persons had testified before a congressional committee on any Ohio canal proposal since 1935."

Cleveland Woman, 36, Held In Shooting Death

CLEVELAND (AP) — James Davenport, 31, died Tuesday night in Polyclinic Hospital after being shot in the head during an argument, police reported.

Detectives said Davenport was shot in a dispute over money at the home of Miss Christine Williams, 36. She was held for questioning. Police quoted Miss Williams as saying she grabbed a .32-caliber pistol from under the sofa after Davenport slapped her.

IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of Helen Elizabeth Cook who passed away Feb. 8, 1932. I dream of a beautiful garden. A garden where the roses bloom. Where a lovely angel is waiting and watching with loving eyes. Her heart is of the purest gold. Her soul was filled with love. She hears the prayers of her loved one here.

Waiting each one from above. She's always hovering near us. Banishing sorrow and fear. God calls her an Angel in Heaven. But we called her our Daughter down here.

Mr. and Mrs. Sep. Cook
IN memory of Samuel J. Lawton who passed away 5 years ago today. The rolling stream of Life rolls on, but still the vacant chair recalls the love, the voice that smiles of the one who once sat there. What would I give to clasp his hand, his happy face to hear his voice and see his smile, that meant so much to me. Sadly missed by wife, sons, and daughters.

IN loving memory of my dear Father, John Dimmock, who passed away 13 years ago today, Feb. 8, 1948. They say time heals all sorrows. And helps us to forget. But time so far has only proved how much we miss him yet. But God gives us strength to fight. And courage to heal the blow. And what it means to lose him. No one will ever know. Sadly missed by his loving daughter, May Dimmock Kibbie.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Young Dictator Makes Parents Slaves

The spoiled child is a tyrannical dictator in the family and his parents are his cringing, cowering slaves. He may also try to be a dictator toward other children of whom only the weaker ones will tolerate his tyranny. He may begin to get that way early in infancy, when he first discovers he can get what he wants and right away when he wants it and he may go on getting what he wants when he wants it.

Dr. Garry Meyers

His mother, advised to take him up and feed him when he cries during the first several days or weeks of his life with the hope that he will himself soon choose the best feeding schedule, may find that he doesn't settle down to a desirable schedule.

FEARING TO interfere too much, the mother may let him go on demanding food after obviously too short periods. He may turn night into day and keep this up for many months or years.

If the baby or tot wakens often at night or doesn't go to sleep promptly at naptime or bedtime, Mother or Dad may rock him to sleep, teeter or carry him.

Some babies and children may command one or the other parent to do so for him many times a night, night after night. Or the tired mother may allow him into bed with her, beginning a practice he may demand to have continued for years.

By day, this youngster may be able to demand almost continuous attention and amusement. Also, he may demand some foods, especially sweets, many times a day, continuing such eating even when in high school.

THE MOTHER'S earlier and later error is in not saying "No" to herself. By and by, as he begins to move about, he grows more spoiled if she also fails to teach him to respect "No!" or "Don't!" fails to teach him to respect definite limitations.

As a result, he may not be ready to respect the wishes or authority of any other adult. Besides, he may try to lord it over other children and to be aggressive toward him.

Suppose the mother provides the youngster with abundant affection, even to the point where she can guide him almost wholly by positive suggestions.

Then he may grow so dependent on her emotionally that he will be unhappy out of her presence by day — a mama's child. Also he may be slow at learning to amuse himself and to find amusement with other children.

There remains the problem of training him to respect limitations and the rights and feelings of others and still to enjoy abundant affection and security.

My bulletin "Love and Restraint" may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Exercise Program Can Start At Waist

"Where should one begin exercise?" an overweight young mother inquires. Begin in the middle, with the muscles that form the abdominal wall.

When the waist widens the cause is flabby abdominals, particularly the side-front abdominals.

Nature's girdle design is a marvel of genuinity, comprised of four powerful pairs of muscles. These muscles, which run in different directions, oppose and balance each other. On each side of the center front are the long, narrow muscles.

Think of these as the up-pull muscles. Angling in on the bias are broad, flat muscles called the obliques. Underneath these are other muscle layers. The external obliques wrap crisscross fashion around the sides, controlling the boundary lines of the figure. When these muscles lose their tone, the waist widens.

THE THERM waistline is really incorrect for there is no line. Rather there is a narrowing through the middle, a cinching-in with the muscles that wrap the waist at the sides. So on with exercise to tone these, and the other muscles which form nature's girdle.

Position: Lie on back on floor, palms resting on thighs.

Action: Raise only the head and shoulders off the floor and look toward your feet. Palms should slide down toward knees as head and shoulders are raised. H-o-l-d to a slow count of six, counting out loud in this manner, one, hold, two, hold, etc. Repeat this complete exercise four times, later increasing to eight, then 16, and finally 20 times.

The second exercise is designed to tone the side-front muscles.

Position: Lie on back on floor, palms on thighs.

Action: Raise left leg, only about 8 inches up, raise head and right shoulder off floor. Now, touch the left knee with the right hand. Hold this position to slow count of six.

Relax, then repeat, this time raising right leg and left shoulder and touching palm to right knee. Start with 4 times, holding as suggested, later increase to eight counts, then 16, and finally to 20 counts.

Position: Sitting on floor, legs straight out in front, elbows bent and hands clasped behind head.

ACTION: PULL up snugly with the middle muscles and hold the up-pull. Twist gently at the waist to the right, twisting halfway around; and bend forward and touch left elbow to left knee.

Come back up, contract with girdle muscles again, twist gently to the left and touch right elbow to right knee. Throughout the exercise, be sure to keep abdominal muscles pulled up-and-in firmly.

Send a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope for "Away With Middle Spread." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I make a non-oily sweeping compound that will help make a good job of sweeping up a dusty or sawdust-covered concrete floor?

A. Dampen newspaper thoroughly with water, tear into small bits, and spread over the floor. As you sweep the wet bits across the floor, the dust and sawdust clings to them and you'll make a real "clean sweep".

Q. How can I remove odors from a frying pan?

A. A little vinegar poured into the pan while it is still hot will remove the odor of fried onions, and also of fish. Another method is to sprinkle oatmeal in the pan and shake it over the flame until the meal begins to scorch.

Q. How can I be certain that meat will be tender after boiling it?

A. Adding a teaspoon of lemon juice to the water in which the meat is boiled often helps.

Very Costly Drive

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — It cost Hilario Flores, 33, exactly $100 to drive seven blocks. In the short drive he hit a parked car, left the scene of the accident, ran through three stop signs and hit a tree. He did it all without a driver's license. The fines added up to $100.
